Dr. Jerry Buss

Jerry Buss' rise from an impoverished youth in Kemmerer, a small Wyoming mining and sheep ranching community, to his current position of influence in both the business and sports communities was not so much meteoric as it was a product of education and hard work.

A graduate of the University of Wyoming with a Bachelor's degree, Buss received his Ph.D. in Chemistry from the University of Southern California.

In 1958, he and fellow aerospace worker Frank Mariani found among other common bonds a mutual desire to improve their economic status. Applying their scientific training to commerce, chemist Buss and engineer Mariani parlayed an original $1,000 investment in an apartment building into what is today a multi-hundred million dollar real estate business with property throughout California and holdings in Arizona and Nevada.

Buss' first involvement in professional sports came in World Team Tennis in 1974. Each year under his ownership attendance increased steadily until, in 1978, the Los Angeles Strings not only won the league championship, they also broke all attendance records by a large margin.

Buss has been an avid sports fan for as long as he can remember. Unable to pursue even a high school athletic career because of his need to work, his dream had been to be involved in sports. That dream came true in June of 1979 when he purchased the Lakers, Kings and The Forum from Jack Kent Cooke for $67.5 million, the largest sports transaction in history.

The Buss family also owns and operates the Los Angeles Lazers of the Major Indoor Soccer League, the Los Angeles Strings of Team Tennis, and recently began operation of Prime Ticket, Southern California's first cable sports network, which features Forum based teams and events, along with other professional and major college athletic games and events.

Buss has two daughters, Jeanie and Janie, and two sons, Jim and John, and the entire family is involved with his sports empire. Jeanie, 26, operates the Strings and heads the Forum Championship Tennis operation. Jim, 27, succeeded John as president and general manager of the Lazers.

Buss' blue-jean lifestyle is as casual as his business operations are mathematically precise. He involves himself in both with great enthusiasm, as he does his community involvement. He devotes a large measure of his time and resources to many community and youth serving causes. He is most diligent in his support of education and the disadvantaged young and elderly.

Bill Sharman

Bill Sharman has run out of fingers.

The Lakers' 1987 NBA title rewards the club's president with his 11th pro basketball championship ring, spread over four teams in three leagues from four different perspectives.

His first four championships came while he was playing with the Boston Celtics (1957, 1959, 1960 and 1961) during a career which eventually saw him named to the NBA's 10-man Silver Anniversary Team in 1970 and later inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1974.

His fifth title came in 1962, when he assumed the head coaching position with the Cleveland Pipers in mid-season and led the club to the American Basketball League crown. Nine years later, he coached the Utah Stars to an American Basketball Association title.

Bill has been a part of all five NBA titles the Lakers have captured since moving to Los Angeles in the early '60's. After leading the Stars to the ABA title in 1970-71, Bill coached the record-setting, 69-13 Lakers the following year, guiding that team to an NBA-record 33 consecutive victories. He served as the club's general manager when it annexed NBA titles in 1980 and 1982, and has been club president for its most recent championships in 1985 and 1987.

None of this should come as a surprise once you realize that Bill has been a winner since he first started playing sports. Born in Abilene, Texas on May 25, 1926, Bill's family moved to Lomita, California when he was an infant.

He competed in football, baseball, track and basketball at Porterville High School, yet still found time to win the state amateur tennis title on the side. He earned a total of 15 varsity letters in high school and was named California's Outstanding High School Athlete in 1944.

Following high school Bill spent two years in the Navy, then enrolled at USC, where he broke into the Trojans' starting lineups in both baseball and basketball as a freshman. He was a two-time basketball All-America but left USC early after signing a bonus contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Although Bill never played in a major-league game, he was a part of baseball history twice during the 1951 pennant race that saw the New York Giants catch the Dodgers. He has the dubious distinction of having been ejected from a major league game despite never playing in one, after the benches were cleared during one hotly-contested game that season. Later, he was in the Dodger dugout when Billy Thompson connnected for the dramatic home run that advanced the Giants into the Woirld Series.

While Bill's pro baseball career may have left something to be desired, his pro basketball career flourished. The Washington Capitals drafted Bill in the second round in 1950 and he played in 31 games during his rookie season. He was selected by Fort Wayne in the 1951 dispersal draft, but was later traded to the Celtics.

In addition to the four titles, the Celtics finished in first place five times and never suffered a losing season during his 10 campaigns there. He was named to the All-NBA team seven times and participated in eight All-Star Games, earning MVP honors in the 1955 contest and sinking a legendary 88-foot shot in the 1958 game.

Arguably the greatest shooter during the NBA's first generation, Bill was the first guard to shoot .400 from the floor for a season and his .884 free throw percentage remains the third-highest in league history. He averaged 17.8 points in 711 regular-season games and improved his performance in 78 playoff appearances by averaging 18.5 points and hitting 91 percent of his free throws, the second-highest post-season mark in NBA history.

After retiring from the Celtics in 1961, Bill began a distinguished coaching career and he remains the only person to have coached championship teams in three different pro leagues. He began as coach of the Los Angeles Jets of the ABL in 1961-62 but took over command of the Pipers after the Jets disbanded in mid-season.

In his seven seasons as an NBA head coach, which began with the San Francisco Warriors from 1966-68, his teams won four divisional titles and wound up with a 330-240 (.581) record. Bill's four Laker clubs won better than 60 percent of their games.

Bill moved into the Lakers' front office following the 1975-76 season, first as General Manager and, following the team's 1982 Championship season, as President. He was responsible for several transactions that have maintained the club's level of excellence throughout the current decade, including the trade that provided the club with the No. 1 pick (James Worthy) in the draft just weeks after winning the NBA title in 1982. He ended his playing retirement briefly to compete in the NBA's first Legends Game during the 1984 All-Star Weekend in Denver.

Bill and his wife, Joyce, live in Marina del Rey. He has two daughters, Nancy and Janice, and two sons, Tom and Jerry, from a previous marriage.

Jerry West

If asked to select the one move that was the key to the Lakers' Championship last season, one might be hard-pressed to come up with an answer.

There was Earvin Johnson's driving hook shot that capped a fierce Laker rally in Game 4 of the Championship Series in Boston. There was James Worthy's sprawling save of a loose ball that led to a lay-up that sparked another rally in the sixth and decisive game against the Celtics.

But, perhaps the most significant move may have been one made in The Forum office and not on the basketball floor by General Manager Jerry West, when he engineered the mid-season deal that brought Mychal Thompson, and veteran front-court depth, to the Lakers.

Since assuming the club's General Manager position in the summer of 1982, the Lakers have won two NBA titles, appeared in the Championship Series four times and have averaged more than 60 wins per season. Yet, during this same period, the club has undergone a quiet rebuilding process, adding three young starters in James Worthy, Byron Scott and A.C. Green.

Of course, Jerry is better-known as one of the greatest players in NBA history after a 14-year career, all with the Lakers. When he retired after the 1973-74 campaign he had scored 25,194 points, the third player to reach the 25,000 mark, still the sixth-highest total in NBA history. His 27.0 scoring average is the third-highest in NBA history and he ranks among the all-time leaders in several other categories.

Jerry was the all-time NBA playoff leader in points (4,457) and assists (970) until Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Earvin Johnson, respectively, passed him in 1985 post-season play. His 29.1 scoring average in the playoffs is still the highest in NBA history and he remains the Lakers' all-time leader in points and assists (6,238).

Among his most memorable accomplishments were compiling a 40.6 scoring average during the 1965 playoffs and sinking a 60-foot shot to send Game 3 of the 1970 Championship Series against the New York Knicks into overtime.

Jerry was selected to the All-NBA first team 10 times, the second team twice, the All-Defensive first team four times and second team once. He was selected to play in the All-Star Game for 13 consecutive seasons and was MVP of the 1972 classic at The Forum, and NBA Playoff MVP in 1969 despite playing for the losing team.

He averaged 25.8 points for the 1971-72 Lakers, which set NBA records by winning 33 straight games and finishing 69-13 before bringing the first NBA title to Los Angeles. Jerry was elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1979 and was named to the NBA's 35th Anniversary team in 1980.

Since the Lakers moved to Los Angeles in 1960, they have participated in the playoffs in all but two seasons. It is probably not a coincidence that those two seasons (1974-75 and '75-76) are the lone ones in which Jerry West was not affiliated with the club.

Jerry returned to the Lakers for the 1976-77 season, replacing Bill Sharman as the club's head coach, and had a 145-101 record in his three seasons at the helm. His first club finished with a 53-29 record, the best in the NBA that season, and he led the club into the playoffs in all three campaigns after the two-year absence.

Following the 1978-79 campaign Jerry served the Lakers for three years as a special consultant, with the primary responsibility of scouting college players. Prior to the 1982-83 season he was elevated to his present position as the club's General Manager, where he oversees the day-to-day operation of the club and all player personnel decisions.

Jerry had earned national prominence long before he came to the Lakers, however. Born on May 28, 1938 in Cheylan, West Virginia, he first gained notice at East Bank High School, leading his team to the state title in 1956. He averaged 32.2 points per game that year to become the first player in West Virginia history to score over 900 points in a season.

He went on to the University of West Virginia, where he set 12 school records, graduated with a 24.8 scoring average and was a two-time All-America before becoming the Lakers' first pick in the 1960 college draft.

Jerry served as co-captain of the 1960 U.S. Olympic basketball team which won the gold medal and is generally considered the greatest Olympic team ever. He was also a member of the gold medal-winning U.S. squad in the 1958 Pan American Games.

Jerry and his wife, Karen, reside in Bel Air with their eight-year-old son, Ryan. Jerry has three other sons, David, Mark and Michael, from a previous marriage.

Mitch Kupchak

Mitch Kupchak brings the same diligence and enthusiasm that he displayed on the basketball court with him into the front office as the Lakers' Assistant General Manager.

This doesn't mean that he constantly dives on the floor in the office, but he does demonstrate that blue-collar work ethic on a daily basis.

When Mitch signed with the Lakers in the summer of 1981, one of the provisions in his long-term contract was that he would continue to work for Laker owner Dr. Jerry Buss in some capacity following his retirement from playing. Prior to last season, after another rehabilitation following arthroscopic knee surgery, Mitch accepted an offer to assume his present position and bring his playing career to an end.

Mitch assists General Manager Jerry West in the daily operation of the club in a number of ways, taking on various special projects and assisting in the scouting of college players. He completed work towards an MBA degree at UCLA, which he began during his playing days with the club, in February and has spent much of the summer upgrading the basketball staff's computer system.

Mitch is one of 15 players in NBA history to have won titles on two different clubs, having served as sixth-man for the Washington Bullets title team in 1978, and a member of the Lakers' Championship clubs in 1982 and '85.

He was a first-round draft choice of the Bullets in 1976 and spent his first five seasons there, primarily as a back-up for Wes Unseld and Elvin Hayes. In August, 1981, he was acquired by the Lakers in exchange for Jim Chones, Brad Holland and two draft picks.

Mitch was a starter for the Lakers for the first 26 games of the 1981-82 campaign, averaging 14.3 points and 8.1 rebounds, before suffering multiple injuries to his left knee which required two surgeries. It was feared, even expected, that he would never play again, but Mitch proved the doctors wrong by returning to the Lakers in November, 1983 after undergoing daily therapy for 16 months.

He was a major contributor off the bench as the club captured the 1985 title, but suffered a series of injuries the following year, including a contusion to his larynx which made him virtually inaudible for several months, a sprained ankle, and twice sprained his previously injured left knee.

Mitch was born in Hicksville, New York on May 24, 1954 and starred at Brentwood High School on Long Island. He was a standout at the University of North Carolina and led the Tar Heels to an Atlantic Coast Conference tournament title in his junior season, then was named the league's Player of the Year as a senior.

Mitch is single and resides in Westwood.

Pat Riley

Since taking over as head coach of the Lakers in November, 1981, the only thing Pat Riley hasn't won has been a Coach of the Year award.

But, if the NBA gave out a Coach of the Decade award, he'd probably be a unanimous selection.

In his brief six-year tenure Pat has amassed the highest winning percentages in NBA history, both for regular-season (.730) and playoff (.713) competition. His 72 playoff wins are the second-highest total in NBA history, and he's only the third coach to have won as many as three NBA Championships.

Pat reached another milestone on December 7 last season when he became the fastest coach to record 300 triumphs in league history, and can be the quickest to reach 400 with the club's 49th triumph this season, topping Billy Cunningham's record of 572 games.

Not bad for a guy who was starting his third season as Chick Hearn's colorman on Laker broadcasts in November, 1979, when the club's new head coach, Jack McKinney, was seriously injured in a bicycle accident. Assistant coach Paul Westhead replaced McKinney as head coach and, while waiting for a plane at the Denver airport, later asked Pat to join him as his assistant, and the Lakers went on to win the NBA title that year.

On November 19, 1981, Pat replaced Westhead and became the Lakers' 12th head coach, and the club responded by winning 11 of his first 13 games at the helm to establish the momentum that led to the club's 1982 NBA title. Under his leadership that year the club finished the season winning 50 of its final 71 games, then breezed through the playoffs winning 12 of 14 contests, including an NBA-record nine wins in a row with back-to-back series sweeps.

Over the last three years the Lakers have recorded three consecutive 60-win seasons for the first time in club history, and only the record-setting 1971-72 Lakers (69-13), of which Pat was a member, won more games than any of those clubs. After posting 62-20 records in 1984-85 and 1985-86, the club improved to 65-17 last year, a record surpassed by just five clubs in NBA history.

The Lakers won the title in 1985, but were eliminated in the Western Conference finals by Houston in 1986, leaving some doubt as to the club's chances last season. Pat decided some changes were needed. He restructured the offense and urged Earvin Johnson to "be more selfish" and score more himself. He also inserted untested A.C. Green, who sat out the entire Houston playoff series in '86, in the starting lineup in place of five-year fixture Kurt Rambis.

The balanced offense featured seven players scoring in double figures and Johnson and Green both responded with their best seasons, Johnson winning NBA MVP honors for the first time and Green leading the club in rebounding. The club got off to a fast start as Pat earned Coach of the Month honors for a 12-2 November, later winning 13 of 14 games in March. The Lakers won 13 of their first 14 playoff contests en route to last year's title.

Overall, the Lakers are 351-130 under Pat in regular-season play, 72-29 in post-season competition. He is the first coach to have led his team into the NBA Finals in each of his first four seasons, and has recorded two wins in five All-Star Game appearances.

In addition to being the winningest coach in league history Pat has emerged as an innovator, showing selected video replays to the team at half-time, preparing personalized motivational and instructional videotapes for Laker players and advocating technological advances, such as headphones for coaches on the bench.

Pat credits much of his success as a basketball coach to his mentor while he attended the University of Kentucky, the legendary Adolph Rupp. He was the Wildcats' MVP for three years and team captain as a senior, though he had his best year as a junior when he averaged 22 points per game and led Kentucky to the NCAA Finals.

Pat was the seventh player selected in the first round of the 1967 college draft by the San Diego Rockets, where he played for three seasons. In May of 1970 the Portland Trail Blazers selected Pat in the expansion draft, but later sold him to the Lakers prior to the start of the season.

Pat spent more than five years of his nine-year NBA career with the Lakers and was a member of the record-setting Championship 1971-72 club. His best season came in 1974-75 when he averaged 11 points per game and had a career-high 38-point outing. The Lakers dealt him to the Phoenix Suns early in the following season and he retired after that campaign.

Pat was born on March 20, 1945 and also starred in football at Linton High School while growing up in Schenectady, New York. Despite the fact that he didn't play any college football he was an 11th-round draft choice of the Dallas Cowboys. His brother, Lee, played defensive back in the NFL and his father, Leon, was a major league catcher and minor league manager.

In addition to travelling over the summer, including an accidental meeting with Earvin Johnson on a beach in the Bahamas, Pat conducted his annual summer camp and gave motivational speeches at various corporate functions. He is also active in various community service projects, including the Save The Books campaign and the fight against Retinitis Pigmentosa.

Pat, his wife, Chris, and infant son, James Patrick, live in Brentwood.

Pat Riley's 351-130 record since becoming the Lakers' head coach on November 19, 1981, gives him a .730 regular-season winning percentage, the highest in NBA history, and he has won at least 50 percent of his games against each of the other NBA clubs. Here is Pat's record against the 22 other NBA clubs in regular-season games during his tenure as Lakers' head coach:

Atlanta	10-2	Houston	24-4	Phoenix	24-10
Boston	6-6	Indiana	9-2	Portland	28-6

Bill Bertka

Perhaps one episode from last season best capsulizes Bill Bertka's contributions to the Lakers.

When the Lakers traded for Mychal Thompson, the veteran big man did not arrive in Los Angeles until the night before the club's nationally-televised game with the Boston Celtics. Thompson and Bertka met at 8:30 that morning as the veteran assistant coach gave Thompson a crash course in the Lakers' offensive and defensive systems. Hours later, Thompson played 29 minutes in the Lakers' triumph, including the final 20 minutes, later praising his mentor for "simplifying a very difficult situation."

Bill Bertka has been simplifying difficult situations for years, and Pat Riley is quick to credit him when discussing his own success as the winningest coach in league history. One of the first moves Riley made when he became the Laker head coach was to name Bill as his assistant, and its a move he hasn't regretted.

Bill, 60, played his college ball at Kent State University and played in the old National Industrial Basketball League before embarking on careers in coaching and scouting.

He served as head coach at Hancock College in Santa Maria, California, from 1954-57, leading his team to a 42-game winning streak, a 97-13 overall record and a Junior College State Championship in 1957. He then left Hancock and returned to his alma mater, where he served as head coach for four years and helped elevate Kent State's program to the major-college level.

Bill originally joined the Laker organization in 1968, serving as the club's chief scout and director of player personnel for six years.

He then joined the New Orleans Jazz when the club was formed in 1974 and served that club in a variety of roles, including General Manager, director of player personnel and assistant coach and was the primary architect during the first eight years of the club's existence, before rejoining the Lakers early in the 1981-82 campaign.

Bill is perhaps best known as the founder of Bertka Views, the most successful college scouting service in the country, now operated by his wife, Solveig. Many of the nation's premier college basketball programs utilize Bertka Views as their sole scouting service. Meanwhile, Bill, long recognized for his scouting ability, maintains access to more scouting reports on college talent than anyone.

Bill and Solveig have two daughters, Britt and Kris, and make their home in Santa Barbara.

Randy Pfund

Randy Pfund has the unique distinction of coaching back-to-back championships clubs just two months apart.

In June, he earned his first Championship ring as the Lakers defeated the Boston Celtics for the NBA title. In August, he guided an undermanned group of free agents (and A.C. Green) to the championship of the Southern California Pro Summer League.

Not bad for a 35-year-old guy who as recently as two years ago was an assistant coach at Westmont College, an NAIA school in Santa Barbara.

Randy joined the Lakers in September, 1985, replacing former assistant coach Dave Wohl, who assumed the position as head coach with the New Jersey Nets.

Prior to that he served as an assistant coach at Westmont, after a rather unusual beginning. After starring in basketball and football at Wheaton (Illinois) North High School, Randy earned honorable mention All-America honors in basketball at Wheaton College, playing under his father, Lee Pfund.

He then worked as a high school teacher and coach in Illinois for two years before he quit and talked his way into a job as an unpaid volunteer at Westmont, where he remained for eight years. He eventually began getting paid for his efforts and also took over as director of the school's booster organization.

When Pat Riley named Randy as Wohl's replacement he cited his scouting and adminstrative experience as major factors in the decision.

Randy's primary responsibilty is to scout future Laker opponents, a task which has him on the road away from the team for much of the season.

Even when he's in town for home games Randy remains somewhat inconspicuous as he spends the first half upstairs in the auxiliary press box coordinating the Lakers' half-time video sessions, before joining the team on the bench for the second half.

Randy is single and lives in Marina del Rey.

Gene Tormohlen

This marks the 20th consecutive year that Gene Tormohlen will be traipsing around the country scouting college basketball players.

One of the most well-respected scouts in the NBA, "Bumper", as he is known throughout the league, is beginning his fifth year with the Lakers. Prior to joining the Laker before the 1983-84 campaign, Gene served as a scout and assistant coach with the Altanta Hawks for eight years, then served as a scout with the Chicago Bulls for seven seasons.

Gene played for the St. Louis Hawks for six years, retiring as the club moved to Atlanta in 1968. He also played with the amateur Cleveland Pipers of the National Industrial Basketball League, leading the team to league and AAU titles in his second season, and played with the Kansas City Steers of the American Basketball League for two years.

The 6-9 native of Holland, Indiana was a two-time All-SEC performer at Tennessee, serving as captain of the Vols as a senior.

Gene works out of his home in Lawrenceville, Georgia, where he lives with his wife, Julie, and two children, Gina and Tommy.

Ronnie Lester

The newest face among the Lakers' braintrust is actually a familar one.

Ronnie Lester, 28, who spent two years with the club and was a member of the Lakers' 1985 NBA Championship team, rejoins the club as a scout this season.

Ronnie will be based in his Glenview, Illinois home, near Chicago, with the primary responsibility of scouting college players in the Mid-west, though he will also do some scouting of other NBA clubs.

After earning All-America honors at the University of Iowa where he had his uniform retired after becoming the school's all-time leader in scoring and assists, Ronnie had an injury-plagued six-year NBA career.

A first-round choice of the Portland Trail Blazers in 1980, 10th overall, he was traded on draft day to his hometown Chicago Bulls. He played with the Bulls for four years, enjoying his best season in 1981-82 when he averaged 11.6 points and 4.8 assists and started 74 of his 75 outings.

Ronnie signed with the Lakers as a free agent on November 29, 1984, and appeared in 59 regular-season and nine playoff games during his two seasons in Los Angeles.

He is single.

Gary Vitti

Gary Vitti is beginning his fourth season as the Lakers' trainer, though his job description and work experience go far beyond taping ankles.

Among his related duties are the care, prevention and rehabilitation of injuries to Laker players, responsibility for all equipment, overseeing the club's transportation and hotel accomodations on the road as well as taking care of the team's practice schedule.

In addition, the 33-year-old Vitti has supervised physiological profile studies, being published in both English and Japanese on this subject, and has written a monthly column for "Sports Medicine Digest."

None of this could have prepared him for something he experienced this summer, when he was caught in Manila with a group of touring NBA players when there was an attempted overthrow of the Phillipine government.

Gary grew up in Stamford, Connecticut and attended Stamford Catholic High School. He earned a B.S. from Southern Connecticut State in 1976 and an M.S. in sports medicine from the University of Utah in 1982.

While studying at the University of Utah he spent two years as a trainer at the school as well as two years as an assistant trainer with the Utah Jazz. He then served as the head athletic trainer at the University of Portland for two years before joining the Lakers prior to the 1984-85 season.

Gary and his wife, Chris, celebrated the birth of their first child, Rachel Lee, in August, and make their home in Manhattan Beach.

Chick Hearn

If 1986-87 was the year of the Lakers in the NBA, then around The Forum it was the year of Chick Hearn.

Even MVP Earvin Johnson would have a difficult time matching the year the only play-by-play announcer the club has ever had enjoyed. From the installation of a star bearing his name on Hollywood Boulevard's "Walk of Fame", to his photo adorning the team media guide cover, to his 2,000th consecutive broadcast on Feb. 28, it was certainly Chick's year.

So, what can he do for an encore? Simply, he can continue entertaining and informing Laker fans with the "words-eye-view" he has provided since the 1961 playoffs, when the club began broadcasting in its inaugural season in Los Angeles. Chick remains the lone person to be affiliated with the club since that first season in LA.

Born Francis Dayle Hearn, Chick grew up in Aurora, Illinois and attended Bradley University. He was given the nickname "Chick" when, as an AAU basketball player, he was handed a box of sneakers, only to be surpirsed to find a chicken inside.

Chick came to Los Angeles in 1956 to broadcast USC football and basketball and later did a nightly radio sports show that earned him two Emmy Awards in the 1960's. He has received a Golden Mike Award and has twice been named National Sportscaster of the Year.

On March 28, 1981, the Lakers honored him with "Chick Hearn Night" and the hundreds of congratulatory letters and telegrams he received filled two scrapbooks, including one from another sportscaster who got his start in the Mid-west, President Reagan.

Althought best-known for his work with the Lakers, Chick has broadcast virtually every conceivable kind of sporting event, including NCAA football, UNLV basketball, PGA golf tournaments, the first Ali-Frazier fight, the Rose Bowl, the East-West Shrine football game, celebrity tennis and Bowling for Dollars. In addition to Laker radio/tv simulcasts Chick also broadcasts Forum boxing and tennis events on the Prime Ticket Network.

Chick's near-non-stop work schedule also includes numerous commercials and movie spots and he's a popular after-dinner speaker. Two years ago he recorded a hit rap record, "Wrap Around", and last year he helped create "Chick's Dream Game" fantasy tapes.

Chick and his wife, Marge, live in Encino with their daughter, Samantha.

Stu Lantz

Stu Lantz returns to the Lakers this year after a 10-year absence.

Of course, Stu, 41, won't be playing, but sitting next to Chick Hearn as color commentator on Laker broadcasts. He replaces Keith Erickson who has left the broadcast team after eight years to enter into private business.

Stu, a native of Uniontown, Pennsylvania and a 1968 graduate of the University of Nebraska, was a third-round draft choice of the San Diego Rockets in 1968. He spent his first three seasons in San Diego and enjoyed his best pro campaign in 1970-71, his third season, when he averaged 20.6 points per game for the Rockets.

He also played for the Detroit Pistons and New Orleans Jazz before being traded to the Lakers in December, 1974, where he remained through the 1976-77 campaign. He sat out that entire final season due to a back injury before retiring.

Following the conclusion of his playing career Stu immediately got into broadcasting, and has served as a commentator for the San Diego Clippers, San Diego State University, the University of Nevada-Las Vegas and CBS. He has worked some college games with Chick in the past and the two teamed up on several Prime Ticket broadcasts from the Southern California Pro Summer League this year.

Stu will continue to make his home in San Diego, where he serves as vice president of Micro Electronic Components, Inc. in Carlsbad.

He and his wife, Linda, have three children: Todd, Kristin and Shane.

Ht: 7-2 Wt: 267
Position: Center
Born: April 16, 1947 (New York)
High School: Power Memorial (New York)
College: UCLA '69
Residence: Bel Air

Acquired in a trade with the Milwaukee Bucks following the 1974-75 season for Elmore Smith, Brian Winters, Dave Meyers and Junior Bridgeman.

1986-87: Kareem saved the best for last last season, getting his season-high 32 points in the sixth and final game of the NBA Finals against Boston...although he averaged a career-low 17.5 points and failed to lead his team in scoring for the first time since he was in grammar school he still managed to increase his rebound average from 6.1 to 6.7...turned 40 in the last week of the season, his unprecedented 18th NBA campaign, and signed for two more years (starting with this season) in June...became the first player in NBA history to compete in the playoffs for a 16th season...ranked among NBA leaders with a .564 FG pct...extended his double-figure scoring streak to 774 consecutive regular-season games, though he finished with 10 four times...NBA's all-time scoring leader with 36,474 regular-season points...for first time in his career he failed to block 100 shots (97) and failed to take 1,000 shots (993), though his field goal pct. was the same as 1985-86 and above his career average (.562)...over his final 18 games he averaged 15.3 points in 27.9 minutes...began the season having scored more points than the entire rosters of six clubs...rebounded in double figures 13 times after five times in 1985-86...averaged 12.7 FGAs compared to 16.9 in 1985-86...regular-season highs of 30 points (14-16 FGs) Feb. 27 vs. Golden State, the last time he led the club in scoring, and 14 rebounds Dec. 18 vs. Portland...missed three games Dec. 20-21-23 due to a recurrent corneal erosion syndrome in his right eye, then sat out the season finale April 19 vs. Seattle due to left knee tendinitis and the four games he missed are his high since 1981-82...had 10 points and eight rebounds in his unprecedented 16th All-Star Game appearance at Seattle...his highlight of the season no doubt came Feb. 24 at Phoenix when he chased down a loose ball in the corner and sank the first three-point FG of his career...other milestones included becoming the all-time NBA leader in personal fouls (March 10 vs. Denver), first player to score 36,000 points (Feb. 20 at Chicago), NBA's third-leading rebounder (Dec. 28 vs. Philadelphia) and Laker leader in games played (April 5 at Denver)...begins this season tied with Vern Mikkelsen with 2,812 fouls, the most in club history...had 11 rebounds in the first quarter at Houston March 28...led the club in scoring five times, rebounds on 19 occasions...scored 20 or more points 22 times and had double-figure rebounds in three straight games Nov. 18-19-21 for first time since January, 1985...scoring average improved to 19.2 during the playoffs...failed to score in double figures in two playoff games (Game 3 vs. Denver and Game 4 vs. Golden State) after doing so in 467 consecutive games, including regular-season and playoffs...averaged 16.7 points and 6.3 rebounds in less than 24 minutes in first round vs. Denver, 17.6 points and 6.2 rebounds vs. Golden State, 19.3 points and 7.2 boards vs. Seattle, 21.7 points and 9.4 boards in Finals vs. Boston.

CAREER: After becoming the first NBA player to compete in an 18th season last year Kareem is entering his unprecedented 19th pro campaign...only player in NBA history to have six MVP awards (1971-72-74-76-77-79)...selected to the All-Star Game 17 times, All-NBA first team 10 times and All-Defensive team 11 times, five on first team...one of 15 players to have won NBA titles with two different franchises...Rookie of the Year in 1969-70 with the Milwaukee Bucks and the league's second-leading scorer (29.9) that year...in addition to winning his first MVP Award the following year he was named playoff MVP as Milwaukee swept the Bullets for the title...made it back-to-back MVPs and scoring titles in 1971-72 as he tossed in his career-high 34.8 points per game...averaged more than 44 minutes per game that year and scored his career-high 55 points at Boston...runner-up for MVP in 1972-73 but won his third trophy the following year, finishing third in scoring (27.0) and fourth in rebounding (14.5)...came to the Lakers prior to the 1975-76 season in a trade that sent Junior Bridgeman, Dave Meyers, Elmore Smith and Brian Winters to the Bucks...added three more MVP awards with the Lakers in 1975-76, '76-77 and '78-79...passed Wilt Chamberlain to become NBA's all-time scoring leader on a hook shot vs. Utah at Las Vegas on April 5, 1984...earned his second playoff MVP award, 14 years apart, when Lakers defeated the Celtics for the 1985 NBA title...has averaged 23.7 points since joining the Lakers and ranks with Jerry West and Elgin Baylor among the club's top three in virtually every statistical category...credit veteran announcer Eddie Doucette with naming Kareem's favorite weapon the "sky-hook" back in his Milwaukee days...has scored 40 or more points 70 times and has grabbed 25 or more rebounds on 16 occasions...ranks among all-time leaders in virtually every statistical category (see chart)...he's also the active leader in free throws made and attempted and rebounds...has scored more than 16,000 more points than any other active player, and he's appeared in 500 more games than any other active player...only three active players (Moses Malone, Adrian Dantley and Alex English) had scored as many as half as many points as Kareem at the start of this season...all-time NBA playoff leader in years, games, minutes, field goals made and attempted, blocked shots and personal fouls...about the only thing he hasn't done has been to win MVP honors in an All-Star Game.

COLLEGE: Led UCLA to three consecutive NCAA titles (1967-68-69) and was the tournament MVP all three seasons...named College Player of the Year in 1967 and 1969, runner-up to Elvin Hayes as a junior...the Bruins were 88-2 during his three-year varsity career as he averaged 26.4 points and was a three-time unanimous All-America selection.

PERSONAL: Earned national recognition while attending New York's Power Memorial High School as his teams went 95-6 over his four years, including a 71-game winning streak...changed his name from Lew Alcindor in 1971...Kareem means "generous," Abdul "servant for Allah," and Jabbar "powerful"...his customized Bel Air home was destroyed by fire on Jan. 31, 1983, although it has since been rebuilt and he has moved back into it...named "Sports Illustrated" Sportsman of the Year for 1985...active in the business world, Kareem is founder and president of Cranberry Records, a jazz label...has made several appearances as an actor, including roles in movies like "Fletch" and "Airplane" and the television series "Different Strokes", to name a few...served as a guest VJ on MTV last season...has promoted several concerts, including Forum appearances by Diana Ross, Tom Petty and Lionel Ritchie...Kareem's revealing autobiography, "Giant Steps", appeared on the best-seller lists during the 1983-84 campaign...spent part of the summer at his home on Kauai...Kareem has two daughters, Sultana and Habiba, and two sons, Kareem and Amir.

Adrian Branch 24

Ht: 6-7 Wt.: 190
Position: Guard/Forward
Born: November 17, 1963 (Washington, D.C.)
High School: DeMatha (Hyattsville, Maryland)
College: Maryland '85
Residence: Culver City

Signed as a free agent with the Lakers on September 23, 1986.

1986-87: The phrase, "from the out-house to the penthouse", is an apt description of Adrian's season...in late September he was an unsigned free agent, pondering a return to the Continental Basketball Association...nine months later he was pouring victory champagne in the Lakers' Championship locker room...signed with the Lakers just before training camp and made the club after a strong training camp and pre-season showing...appeared in 32 games and his 219 minutes were the lowest on the club, though he averaged 4.3 points per game...maintained his reputation as a scorer by having the second-highest 48-minute scoring projection (30.2) on the club...had season/career-high 12 points (6-7 FGs) in 14 minutes vs. Sacramento Feb. 4, five rebounds March 9 vs. Clippers...had one of his best outings in front of his hometown fans at the Capital Centre on Jan. 18, scoring six points in nine minutes against the Bullets...DNP-CD in 49 games and missed another Dec. 7 vs. Golden State due to a bruised thigh...averaged 1.3 points in 11 playoff outings, hitting just 4-21 FGs (.190)...had his playoff-high three points in the third and final game of the Denver first-round series.

CAREER: Adrian was the 46th player taken in the 1985 college draft, selected on the second round by the Chicago Bulls...found Michael Jordan, George Gervin and Quintin Dailey ahead of him on the Bulls' depth chart at the off-guard spot when he went to camp and wound up spending the 1985-86 season with the Baltimore Lightning of the CBA...led the Lightning in scoring in the regular season (25.4) and playoffs (32.3)...ranked seventh in the league in scoring and was the only rookie ranked in the Top 20.

COLLEGE: Scored 2,017 points over four years to rank among the all-time scoring leaders at Maryland...started every game as a freshman setting a school-freshman record by scoring 442 points, an average of 15.2 per game...scored 29 points as the Terps upset No. 1-ranked Virginia, 47-46...had his highest-scoring season as a sophomore averaging 18.7 points to lead the team and earn second team All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors...averaged 13 points as a junior but re-named to All-ACC second team...averaged 18.1 points as a senior to rank fourth in the ACC and second on his team behind the late Len Bias...had career-high 30 points vs. Virginia as a senior.

PERSONAL: Adrian starred at nationally-known DeMatha High School, earning McDonald's, Converse and "Parade" All-America honors...grew up near and roomed in college with the late Len Bias...had a bi-coastal summer and ran up some pretty impressive numbers in leagues on both coasts...led the Urban Coalition League in his native Washington in scoring averaging over 50 points per game...then set a Southern California Pro Summer League with a 55-point outing...he's single.

Michael Cooper

Ht: 6-7 Wt: 176
Position: Guard/Forward
Born: April 15, 1956 (Los Angeles)
High School: Pasadena
College: New Mexico '78
Residence: Los Angeles

Selected by the Lakers in the third round of the 1978 college draft (60th overall).

1986-87: Michael had arguably his greatest season as a pro and capped it off by being selected as the NBA's Defensive Player of the Year for the first time...also voted to the NBA's All-Defensive team for the seventh consecutive year, his fourth time as a first-team selection...for the fifth consecutive season he appeared in all 82 games, extending his consecutive game streaks to 418 regular-season games and 519 including playoffs...his streak ranks second to Bill Laimbeer (564 regular-season games) among active players...for the second year in a row he set club records for 3FGMs (89) and 3FGAs (231) and flirted with the NBA single-season record of 92 3FGMs set by Darrell Griffith in 1984-85...hit 2-18 3FGs over the final five regular-season games but still finished eighth in the league in 3FG pct. (.385) and second in 3FGMs...hit .851 FTs after shooting .865 each of the previous two seasons...had his second-highest-scoring year averaging 10.5 points, but shot a career-low .438 FGs...take out his 3FGs and his FG pct. is a healthier .461, though he shot better from three-point range than inside the stripe in 40 contests...had more 3FGs than eight NBA teams and tied a ninth...started two games in place of Earvin Johnson Feb. 24-25 vs. Phoenix, averaging 18.5 points, 6.5 rebounds and 7.5 assists...tied his club record with five 3FGs at Dallas Jan. 24...first player to participate in both the NBA Slam-Dunk Contest (1984) and Long Distance Shootout (this year)...had lone double-double of the season Jan. 4 vs. Jazz, getting 15 points and 10 assists...season-high 24 points vs. Golden State Feb. 7 was his highest-scoring game since February, 1982...had a season-long string of seven straight games scoring in double figures Nov. 4-19, and a six-game run April 3-12...registered double-figure assists twice...led club in assists five times...averaged 11.8 points in the first half of the season, 9.1 in the second half...finished third in the balloting for Outstanding Sixth Man...scoring average has increased from the regular-season to the playoffs in each of his eight full seasons in the league...tied his personal playoff highs in both rebounds (eight) and assists (12) in Game 2 vs. Golden State...hit 14-23 3FGs (.609) in the Championship Series against the Celtics and set CS records by hitting 6-7 3FGs in Game 2, including five in a row in the second quarter of that contest...averaged his career-high 13 points in the playoffs...topped all playoff competitors with 34 3FGs to become all-time NBA playoff leader (75)...averaged 12 points in Denver series, 16.4 points, 4.6 rebounds and 6.5 assists vs. Golden State, 11 points and 4.2 assists vs. Seattle and 12 points and 4.7 assists in the Championship Series vs. Boston...in the first-round series vs. Denver he hit 7-11 3FGs (.636) and 4-13 2FGs (.308).

CAREER: Michael was the Lakers' third-round selection in the 1978 college draft, the 60th player chosen overall...appeared in just three games as a rookie, but has missed only seven games in the eight seasons since then, appearing in all 82 games six times...tore a knee ligament playing in a summer league prior to his rookie campaign, returned to the club and made three appearances before aggravating the injury, then missed the remainder of the season ... appeared in all 82 games the following year and was an integral part of that Championship club...had his highest-scoring season in 1981-82 averaging 11.9 points and registering the four highest-scoring games of his career, three within a five-day span in December...had his career-high 31 points February 7, 1982, leading a successful Laker rally with 16 fourth-quarter points in Boston...last missed a game April 2, 1982...ranks among Laker all-time leaders in several categories, including blocked shots (third), steals (fourth), defensive rebounds (fifth), games and assist average (sixth), assists, offensive rebounds and free throw percentage (seventh), personal fouls (eighth) and minutes (ninth)...ranks third all-time on the NBA 3FG made and attempted list for regular-season play, and he's the all-time leader in both categories in playoff competition...owns the highest playoff free throw percentage in Laker history...owns the second-highest 3FG pct. (.401) in NBA playoff history and ranks eighth in steals...owns two Championship Series records: most personal fouls in a four-game series (20, 1983) and most minutes without a turnover (47, tying Wes Unseld, June 6, 1984 vs. Boston).

COLLEGE: Michael attended Pasadena City College, averaging 20.2 points as a sophomore before transferring to New Mexico...co-captain and second-leading scorer at New Mexico as a senior, earning All-America honors from the U.S. Basketball Writers Association...his collegiate scoring high was 26 points...New Mexico was 41-14 during his two years there.

PERSONAL: Michael is considered one of the best all-around athletes in professional sports, and his durability is even more phenomenal when one considers that doctors feared he might never walk again after a childhood accident left him with 100 stitches in his leg...very active in charity and community service work, and was cited in 1986 along with the New York Knicks' Rory Sparrow as co-recipients of the J. Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award...his nomination was based solely on the work he does independently from the club, such as his "Call Coop" hot-line for troubled teenagers in New Mexico...has voluntarily spent weekends locked up in a juvenile detention center to spend some time with the youths...spent part of the summer at his new home in Albuquerque...also conducted his annual summer camps in Pasadena and New Mexico...one of six Laker players to conduct free clincs in the inner city this summer under the auspices of the Community Youth Sports and Arts Foundation...Michael and his wife, Wanda, live in Los Angeles with their son, Michael Jr., and daughter, Simone, who was born five hours after the Lakers were defeated by Philadelphia in the 1983 Championship Series.

A.C. Green 45

Ht: 6-9 Wt: 224
Position: Forward
Born: October 4, 1963 (Portland)
High School: Benson Tech (Portland)
College: Oregon State '85
Residence: Los Angeles

Selected by the Lakers in the first round (23rd overall) of the 1985 college draft.

1986-87: After sitting out the entire Western Conference final series in 1986, all DNP-CD, A.C. moved into the starting lineup and led the team in rebounding (7.8)...started all six pre-season games but suffered a torn ligament in his left thumb in the pre-season finale, which required subsequent surgery and forced him to miss three games, the first games he's missed in HS, college or the pros...regained the starting spot after Kurt Rambis was injured Nov. 24 and stayed there for the final 72 games, leading the club in rebounds in 35 of them...had 23 double-doubles this year, three as a rookie...biggest improvement was at the FT line as he shot .780 after hitting .611 as a rookie, hitting 124-149 (.832) over January-February-March...ranked near NBA FG pct. leaders before shooting 2-9 over the final two games...forced to wear a bulky splint to protect his thumb over the first third of the season but celebrated its removal by scoring a career-high 26 points against the Blazers Dec. 18 in his first outing after it was removed...had his career-high 17 rebounds vs. San Antonio March 20 and his 10 offensive boards that night were the most by a Laker all season...had four double-doubles in a five-game span in early April...statistics were up from his rookie year in every category except FG pct., which was down .001, and personal fouls...rebounded in double figures a team-leading 27 times...had 47 rebounds over a three-game span in which Kareem Abdul-Jabbar was sidelined with an eye ailment (Dec. 20-21-23)...also led the Lakers in rebounds in the playoffs (7.9) and his 14 boards in Game 2 of the Western Conference finals were the most by a Laker in the post-season...had his playoff-high 20 points twice...had six double-doubles in the playoffs...averaged 18 points and 10 rebounds in Denver series, 12.2 points and 8 rebounds vs. Golden State, 11.3 points and 10.2 rebounds vs. Seattle and 7.8 points and 5.2 rebounds in the Championship Series vs. Boston.

CAREER: A.C. was the Lakers' first-round selection in the 1985 college draft, the 23rd player chosen overall...became the first Laker rookie since LeRoy Ellis in 1962-63 to appear in every game...set a club rookie record with 10 offensive boards at Phoenix March 1, a figure exceeded just five times in Laker history...had 17 points and 16 rebounds in his second pro game Oct. 29 at Dallas, getting 15 points and 12 boards in the second half of that game...had three double-doubles as a rookie...scored in double figures 23 times, rebounded in double digits on six occasions and led the club in caroms 10 times...after appearing in all 82 regular-season games and each of the club's first nine playoff conetsts he sat out the entire Western Conference Final vs. Houston, all coaches decision...oddly, he's had six of his seven highest-rebound games as a pro on the road.

COLLEGE: A.C. was selected as Pac-10 Player of the Year as a junior and wound up his career as Oregon State's second-leading rebounder and third-leading scorer...only Steve Johnson and ex-Laker Mel Counts scored more points for the Beavers and only Counts grabbed more boards...third player in OSU history to hit better than 60 percent from the floor over his career, finishing at .601...as a senior he was a third-team All-America choice by AP and UPI, Region 8 Player of the Year and a unanimous All-Pac 10 choice for the second year in a row...finalist for the John Wooden Award as a senior, finishing eighth in the balloting...scored career-high 39 points vs. Stanford as a senior...ranked fourth in the NCAA in FG pct. as a junior, finishing behind Akeem Olajuwon, Bobby Lee Hurt and Patrick Ewing...All-Pac 10 as a sophomore and Pac-10 All-Rookie selection as a freshman...led the Beavers in rebounding in each of his last three college seasons.

PERSONAL: If Reggie Jackson is Mr. October, A.C. must be Mr. August...led the Laker entry to the Southern California Summer Pro League title this summer, averaging 29.5 points and 15.2 rebounds to earn MVP honors...led the league in scoring (28.9) and rebounds (13.4) last summer...one of six Laker players to conduct free clinics in the inner city this summer under the auspices of the Community Youth Sports and Arts Foundation...the initials, A.C., like his father's, do not stand for full names — his name is simply A.C. Green Jr....plans to pursue a career as a minister...earned Player of the Year, All-State, All-District and All-Metro (Portland) honors after averaging 26 points as a high school senior, leading Benson Tech to the state title...played in the prestigious Dapper Dan Classic after his senior year...stood 5-11 in ninth grade, 6-8 as a high school senior...hobbies include tennis, bowling, baseball, football and eating frozen yogurt...candidate for NBA All-Appetite team... majored in speech communications in college...A.C. is single and lives in Los Angeles during the season, though he spends part of the summer in his native Portland.

Ht: 6-9 Wt: 220
Position: Guard
Born: August 14, 1959 (Lansing, Michigan)
High School: Everett (Lansing)
College: Michigan State '81
Residence: Los Angeles

Selected by the Lakers in the first round (first overall) of the 1979 college draft.

1986-87: Capped his best season as a pro by winning Most Valuable Player honors for the regular-season and Championship Series...joins Jerry West, Willis Reed, Moses Malone and Larry Bird as the only players to win both awards in the same season (playoff MVP was first awarded in 1969)...won his first MVP award and became the first player to win the Finals MVP for a third time since its inception, having previously done so in 1980 and 1982...first guard to win MVP honors since Oscar Robertson in 1963-64, and only once before was a guard honored (Bob Cousy, 1956-57)...his peers concurred as NBA players named him on 136 of 184 ballots in The Sporting News Player of the Year voting...voted to All-NBA first team for the fifth year in a row and the lone unanimous selection...for the first time as a pro he led the club in scoring, ranking 10th in the NBA averaging a career-high 23.9, while still managing to lead the league in assists for the fourth time in the last five years...his 977 assists broke his Laker record and were the third-highest total in NBA history...named NBA Player of the Week an unprecedented five times and NBA Player of the Month for December and March...had 11 triple-doubles, including four in a row for the first time in his career, and now has 83 in regular-season play in his career...Lakers were 11-0 when he recorded a triple-double and he missed four others by one rebound and one by one assist...between points and assists he accounted for 48.3 points...had six of the nine highest-scoring games of his career, getting 40 or more three times, compared to twice in his first seven campaigns...scored career-high 46 points in an overtime win at Sacramento Dec. 23...had 84 and 79 points in different sets of back-to-back games...grabbed more than 500 rebounds for the first time since 1982-83...missed two games, Feb. 24-25 against Phoenix, due to left Achilles tendinitis which plagued him for most of the season...passed Norm Nixon March 28 to become the NBA's active leader in assists and subsequently passed John Havlicek to move into seventh place on the NBA's all-time list...scored 20 or more points 58 times, 30 or more on 23 occasions...had double-figure assists 59 times, double-digit rebounds on 14 occasions...hit 10 or more free throws without a miss five times and made 16-16 twice, hitting 28-28 Dec. 20-21 at Dallas and Houston...had season-high 20 assists vs. Denver March 10...DNP-CD in the fourth quarters of 18 contests...scored his 10,000th point at Portland Feb. 5...had 22 points in the third quarters of two games, Jan. 19 at New Jersey and April 3 at Portland...averaged 39.3 points and 13.3 assists when Kareem Abdul-Jabbar missed three games in late December due to an eye inflammation...became all-time leader in assists in All-Star competition passing out 13 in the West's 154-149 overtime win at Seattle...led the club in defensive rebounds in the playoffs...averaged 26.2 points in the Championship Series vs. Boston, getting his playoff-high 32 points in Game 3...finished the playoffs as the club leader in assists (12.2) and ranked second in scoring (21.8) and rebounds (7.7)...had three triple-doubles in 18 playoff games...averaged 17.7 points, 7.3 rebounds and 14.3 assists in the Denver series, 20.6 points, 8 rebounds and 10.8 assists vs. Golden State, 19.8 points, 7.3 rebounds and 11 assists vs. Seattle and 8 rebounds and 13 assists vs. Boston...hit a 78-foot shot just before half-time of the club's first playoff game vs. Denver...his 43 assists in that series are the second-highest total for a three-game series, next to the 48 he recorded in the Lakers' 1986 first-round sweep of San Antonio.

CAREER: The Lakers made Earvin the first player selected in the 1979 college draft, using a pick the club acquired as compensation when Gail Goodrich signed as a free agent with the Jazz prior to the 1976-77 season...was first rookie in NBA history to be named MVP of the Finals after getting 42 points, 15 rebounds and seven assists while starting at center replacing the injured (sprained ankle) Kareem Abdul-Jabbar to lead the Lakers past Philadelphia in the sixth and final game of the 1980 Championship Series...owns numerous Laker rookie records including assists (563), steals (187) and FT pct. (.810)...became the third rookie in club history to score 1,000 points...became the first rookie to start in the All-Star Game since Elvin Hayes in 1969...unanimous member of the All-Rookie team and runner-up to Larry Bird in the Rookie of the Year voting...became the third player to have won NCAA and NBA titles back-to-back joining Bill Russell and Henry Bibby, and Billy Thompson became the fourth this past season...missed 45 games during his sophomore campaign due to torn cartilage in his left knee, though his 21.6 scoring average was his highest until this past season...returned from that injury on Feb. 27 and averaged 22.4 points and nine rebounds, sinking 54 percent of his FGs over the final 16 games...won his second playoff MVP award in three years as the Lakers captured another title in 1982...joined Oscar Robertson and Wilt Chamberlain as the third player to reccord 700 points, rebounds and assists that season...led the league in steals (2.67) for the second year in a row and placed second in assists (9.5)...had 18 double-doubles that year...set a club record with 13 offensive rebounds at Houston in 1981-82...1982-83 marked the first year he was selected to the All-NBA first team and he's been a fixture on the team ever since...led the league in assists that season (10.5) and was the only player to average more than 10 per game...broke Jerry West's club record with 829 assists that season, and he's improved the record in three of the four seasons since then...in 1983-84 he was the innaugural winner of the Schick Pivotal Player Award, top vote-getter on The Sporting News All-NBA team (voted by the players) and first team All-NBA again...led the league in assists averaging an NBA-record 13.1, tied Jerry West's club record with 23 assists in a game against Seattle and set an NBA playoff record with 24 assists vs. Phoenix in the Western Conference final...had 968 assists in 1984-85, the third-highest total in NBA history at that time, though he did not lead the league...led the league in assists for the third time in 1985-86, averaging 12.6...handed out his 5,000th career assist March 13, 1986 vs. Seattle...became first player to receive more than one million votes in the 1986 All-Star balloting...ranks seventh all-time in the NBA in assists and can move up to second if he duplicates the 977 he dished out last year...career leader in assists among active players and needs 60 to pass Jerry West to become the all-time Laker leader...all-time NBA playoff leader in assists with 500 more than any other player, and 667 more than any other active player...ranks seventh all-time in steals, fourth among active players, and is all-time playoff leader in steals with one more than No. 2 Maurice Cheeks...his 19.1 career scoring is the fifth-best in Laker history behind guys named Baylor, West, Abdul-Jabbar and Mikan...his 2,264 career playoff points rank 11th in NBA history...owns the three highest single-game assist totals in NBA playoff history and he's recorded five of the six 20-assist games in playoff history...has registered 13 of the 15 regular-season, 20-assist games in Laker history...owns numerous NBA playoff records, such as most assists in a quarter (10), half (15), game (24), three-game series (42), five-game series (85) and average for a series (17.0)...among his Championship Series records are most assists in a quarter (eight, tied), game (21), six-game series (84) and seven-game series (95)...had a record string of 13 consecutive Championship Series games with 10 or more assists halted in Game 3 of the 1987 Finals in Boston...ranks among all-time Laker leaders in virtually every category, including steals and assists average

(first), offensive and defensive rebounds and assists (second), minutes, points, scoring average and blocked shots (fifth), field goals made and field goal percentage (sixth), free throws made and attempted (seventh), rebounds (eighth), games (ninth) and field goals attempted (10th)...on the club's playoff list he ranks first in assists and fourth in games (tied), rebounds and points.

PACIFIC SPECIFICS: The Lakers captured their sixth consecutive Pacific Division title last year, amassing a 16-game advantage over the second-place Portland Trail Blazers...the Lakers moved into first place for good on November 7, and clinched the division title on March 26...in 1985-86 the Lakers won the division by an NBA-record, 22-game margin.

Wes Matthews 1

Ht: 6-1 Wt: 170
Position: Guard
Born: August 24, 1959 (Sarasota, Florida)
High School: Harding (Bridgeport, Connecticut)
College: Wisconsin '80
Residence: Los Angeles

Signed as a free agent with the Lakers on October 13, 1986.

1986-87: It shouldn't have come as much of a surprise when the Lakers signed Wes last fall, after he had been relased by the San Antonio Spurs...after all, he had just victimized the Lakers to the tune of 25.3 points per game in the clubs' first-round playoff series the previous spring...had season highs of 16 points against the Clippers Nov. 30, seven assists against Philadelphia Dec. 28...double figures in eight games, six before New Year's...DNP-CD in 32 contests and saw three times as many minutes (399-133) in the first half of the season as oppposed to the second...best game may have been Nov. 19 at San Antonio when he hit 6-7 FGs and scored 12 points off the bench to spark a late rally...saw action in 12 of the club's 18 playoff contests...scored his playoff-high four points in six of his 12 outings...one of those came in relief of a foul-plagued Magic Johnson in a key relief role in Game 3 of the Western Conference finals vs. Seattle...had four points in all three first-round games vs. Denver, averaged 1 point and 1 assist in three outings vs. Golden State with two DNP-CDs, averaged 4 points and 2 assists in two outings vs. Seattle, then totaled five points and two assists in four brief appearances in the Championship Series against the Celtics.

CAREER: Wes was drafted by the Washington Bullets in the first round of the 1980 draft, 14th overall...he has played with six different clubs, not including two different stints with the Atlanta Hawks, and has competed in the playoffs with five differnt teams...traded by Washington to Atlanta on January 17, 1981 for Don Collins...traded by Atlanta with Kevin Figaro to San Diego for a conditional second-round draft choice on October 6, 1983, then waived by the Clippers on October 17 of that year...re-signed with the Hawks and spent the 1981-82 and 1982-83 seasons with Atlanta...played eight games with the Ohio Mixers of the CBA in 1983-84, also getting into 20 NBA games with Atlanta and Philadelphia...signed as a free agent with Chicago on October 26, 1984, and appeared in 78 games during the 1984-85 campaign with the Bulls...signed as a free agent with San Antonio on October 23, 1985, and wound up starting more than half of the season with the Spurs after Johnny Moore became seriously ill...had his career-high 29 points with the Spurs on March 23, 1986...had his career-high 18 assists as a rookie with Atlanta on March 1, 1981...both of those career-high outings came against Seattle...averaged a team-leading 25.3 points in first-round playoff series against the Lakers in 1986, registering his career playoff highs of 30 points, 10 assists and five rebounds all in that series...scored more points (86) in those three playoff games against the Lakers in 1986 than he did in his first four seasons of post-season competition, combined.

COLLEGE: Elected to turn pro after his junior year at Wisconsin...was second-team All-Big 10 and sixth in the NCAA in FT pct. (.888) that year...hit a school-record 35 consecutive free throws during his junior campaign...had career-high 13 assists vs. Army as a junior, 31 points vs. Michigan as a sophomore...fourth-leading scorer in the Big 10 as a junior averaging 19.6 points, after averaging 14.5 as a freshman and 18.5 as a sophomore...finished as Wisconsin's third-leading scorer with 1,215 points and second in assists with 255.

PERSONAL: Earned All-America honors at Bridgeport's Harding High School and was named MVP of the prestigious Dapper Dan Classic as a senior...studied communications at Wisconsin...less than 24 hours after he became a Laker his wife, Pam, gave birth to the couple's first child —Wes Joel Matthews IV...he also has a nine-year-old daughter, Watesa, from a previous marriage...the Matthews family lives in Los Angeles during the season.

Kurt Rambis 31

Ht: 6-8 Wt: 218
Position: Forward
Born: February 25, 1958 (Cupertino, California)
High School: Cupertino
College: Santa Clara '80
Residence: Manhattan Beach

Signed as a free agent with the Lakers on Sept. 21, 1981.

1986-87: Relinquished his role as a starter after spending four and a half years with the first unit, yet still led the club in rebounds on a per-minute basis...lone Laker with more rebounds (453) than points (446), a feat he has accomplished in five of his six pro seasons...scored in double figures on 13 occasions and the Lakers won all of them...finished the season hitting 12-18 FGs in the last five games but FG pct. fell from team-leading .595 in 1985-86 to .521...had three double-doubles, two in March...had his season-high 16 points March 20 vs. San Antonio, career-high 18 rebounds March 15 vs. Clippers, the most by a Laker all season...took a career-high 16 defensive boards in a 17-rebound outing Nov. 4 at Seattle...rebounded in double figures 10 times...started the club's first 10 games and was its leading rebounder at that point (8.4), leading the league for a while early in the season...suffered a dislocated right index finger in practice Nov. 24 and sat out four games, then came off the bench for the club's final 68 contests...his 5.7 scoring average was the second-highest of his career...had his first playoff DNP-CD in Game 3 of the Western Conference finals vs. Seattle, but followed that with his playoff-high 14 points in Game 4, hitting 5-5 FGs and 4-4 FTs...averaged 10 points and 6.7 rebounds in the Denver series, 4.8 points and 4.4 boards vs. Golden State, 4.7 points and 3.3 rebounds in three outings vs. Seattle and 1.8 points and 2.5 boards in the Finals vs. Boston...hit 24-41 FGs (.585) in the playoffs to maintain his .590 career figure, the second-highest in playoff history...hit his first 17 playoff FTs and made 31-34 (.912) overall...averaged better than one rebound every three minutes in first-round series vs. Denver...though he averaged less than four rebounds per game during the playoffs he still led the club in boards-per-minute.

CAREER: Kurt was selected by the New York Knicks in the third round of the 1980 draft, 58th overall...the Knicks released him during training camp that year, re-signed him to a 10-day contract in December, then released him before he got into a game...wemt to Athens, Greece, where he played for the "AEK" team...spent four months in Greece and played in approximately 20 games as his team won a 20-team tournament...the Lakers signed him the following year and invited him to training camp where, as a longshot, he made the team...after Mitch Kupchak was injured early in the season Pat Riley inserted him into the starting lineup on January 17, 1982, and he's been a major contributor to the club ever since...started 43 of the final 45 games that year and all 14 playoff contests as the Lakers won the NBA title...appeared in 78 of 82 contests in 1982-83 and drastically improved his statistics, most notably in FG (.569) and FT (.687) pct. and scoring (7.5)...missed the first 32 games of the 1983-84 season while on the Injured List due to a sore left foot and was not activated until Jan. 7, appearing in just 47 games that year...came back in 1984-85 to appear in all 82 games for the only time in his career...averaged 7.9 rebounds over the second half of the season and the club went 36-6 after he returned to the starting lineup in mid-January...led the Lakers with a .595 FG pct. in 1985-86 though he failed to qualify among the league leaders...he's hit at least 52 percent of his FGs in each of his six NBA seasons and his .553 FG pct. is the fifth-highest in Laker history...his .590 FG pct. in the playoffs is the second-highest in NBA history, behind teammate James Worthy's (.594)...ranks fourth on the Lakers' all-time lists in both offensive and defensive rebounds...ranks sixth on Lakers' all-time list for playoff appearances with an even 100, ninth in rebounds with 576.

COLLEGE: Kurt established career marks at Santa Clara with 1,725 points and 686 FGs and finished second behind Dennis Awtrey with 1,035 rebounds...WCAC Player of the Year as a senior...has his best rebounding year as a freshman averaging better than 12 per game to rank among the NCAA leaders...averaged 14.9 points as a freshman and blocked 10 shots in one game to earn Northern California and WCAC Freshman of the Year honors, as well as All-WCAC first team...posted career-bests with 19.6 points per game and a .534 FG pct. as a senior...averaged 16 points and 9.6 rebounds and shot .521 FGs over his career...had a career-high 32 points vs. the University of Portland...scored in double figures in his final 33 games and shot 50 percent or better from the floor in all of them.

PERSONAL: Kurt is the club's beach bum and enjoys boogie-boarding...plays tennis and a dedicated weight-lifter...active in charity and community service work and one of six Lakers to conduct free clinics in the L.A. inner city this summer in conjunction with the Community Youth Sports and Arts Foundation...graduated with a B.S. in psychology and hopes to pursue a career in child counseling when his playing days are over...was a guest DJ on an LA radio station this past summer...Kurt's wife Linda is the General Manager and vice president of Forum Championship Tennis, which includes the L.A. Strings...the couple lives in Manhattan Beach with their two sons, Jesse, born in January, 1986 and Jordan, born this past August.

WE'RE NO. 1: The Lakers finished the 1986-87 season with the best record (65-17) in the NBA for the first time since 1976-77. WE'RE NO. 2: The Lakers' 65 wins represent the second-highest victory total in club history...the only Laker team to finish with a better record was the 1971-72 squad, which finished 69-13, the best record in NBA history. WE'RE NO. 6: The Lakers' 65-17 record matches the 1982-83 Philadelphia 76ers as the sixth-best record in NBA history...here are the winningest teams in NBA history:

1971-72 LAKERS	69-13
1966-67 Philadelphia	68-13
1972-73 Boston	68-14
1985-86 Boston	67-15

Byron Scott 4

Ht: 6-4 Wt: 193
Position: Guard
Born: March 28, 1961 (Ogden, Utah)
High School: Morningside (Inglewood)
College: Arizona State '83
Residence: Los Angeles

Acquired by the Lakers on October 10, 1983 along with Swen Nater from San Diego for Norm Nixon, Eddie Jordan and two draft choices.

1986-87: Byron's lucky number must be 4: he wears four, this was his fourth season, and he finished fourth in the NBA in both FT percentage and FG percentage, setting new Laker records in both categories...hit .892 FTs to break the club record formerly set by Cazzie Russell in 1975-76 by .00054, making 69 of his last 75 tries (.920)...hit 3-3 3FGs in the season finale against Seattle on April 19 to lift his percentage to .436, eclipsing the club record of .433 he set when he led the NBA in 1984-85...wound up the season hitting 15 of his last 26 3FGAs (.577)...participated in Long Distance Shoot-Out during All-Star Weekend...started all 82 games and finished with his career highs in scoring (17.0), rebounds (3.5) and assists (3.4)...scored 30 or more points four times, matching his first three seasons as a pro combined, and had a career-high 33 points at Sacramento Dec. 23...had 20 or more points on 33 occasions...had streaks of 35 and 30 FTs without a miss...matched his career-high nine rebounds twice and had nine assists, one below his career high, April 3 at Portland...got off to a fast start averaging 23 points over the club's first three games and scored 22 or more in six of first eight contests...did not miss a FT in 42 outings...led the club in scoring 14 times, seven in 1985-86...hit 7-34 3FGs (.206) in the playoffs after hitting a club-record .436 during the regular season...averaged 19 points in the club's first seven playoff contests, 12.1 over the last 11, and scored in single digits in the last four games of the Championship Series...averaged 19.3 points with 21-39 FGs (.538) vs. Denver, 17 points with 33-73 FGs (.452) vs. Golden State, 13.0 points with 19-36 FGs (.528) vs. Seattle and 11.8 points on 30-62 FGs (.484) in The Finals vs. Boston...he and James Worthy were the only two Lakers to start all 100 games, including regular season and playoffs...tied his career-playoff high with seven rebounds and had his 1987 playoff-high of 28 points in Game 4 at Golden State...Lakers' second-leading scorer in first-round series vs. Denver.

CAREER: Byron was the fourth player and first guard selected in the 1983 college draft, but was traded by the Clippers to the Lakers the day before the pre-season schedule started...after a slow start Byron worked his way into the starting lineup and wound up as the third-leading vote-getter on the All-Rookie team...was shooting just .364 FGs after his first 16 games but shot .509 after Jan. 1 to finish at .484...suffered a sprained right knee during the last week of the regular season which slowed him during the early rounds of the playoffs...had his career-high 32 points at Denver February 1, 1984...shot his career-high .539 FGs in 1984-85 and his 16.0 scoring average that year was his career high until this past season...led the NBA with a .433 3FG pct. that season, the highest since Campy Russell shot .439 in 1981-82...became first guard and joined Wilt Chamberlain, Mitch Kupchak and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar as only players in Laker history to hit 10 FGs without a miss when he shot 10-10 on Feb. 26, 1986...his .398 career 3FG pct. is the second-highest in NBA history, trailing only Trent Tucker's .427...owns the fifth-highest FT pct. in Laker history (.832), the eighth-highest steals total (391) and ranks 10th in FG pct. (.507).

COLLEGE: Although Byron played at Arizona State for just three years he left as the school's all-time scoring leader with 1,752 points...shot better than .500 and his scoring average increased each year, topped by his 21.6 average in his final year when he scored a school-record 713 points...averaged 13.6 points in 1979-80 and 16.6 the following year...sat out 1981-82 due to academic difficulties...scored in double figures in 31 of 33 games in 1982-83 and had his career-high 35 points vs. Oregon State...also had 32 points and 12 rebounds vs. Stanford...finished second in steals and third in assists and scoring average at ASU...made the All-Pac 10 first team in his last year and Pac 10 Rookie of the Year in 1980...two-time MVP of the Fiesta Classic and MVP of the Aloha Classic in 1982...played with four other NBA-bound players at ASU: Lafayette Lever, Alton Lister, Kurt Nimphius and Sam Williams.

PERSONAL: Earned All-America honors from McDonald's and Parade Magazine while attending Inglewood's Morningside High School, and selected to play in the Dapper Dan Classic...broke the school scoring record while in high school...grew up 14 blocks from The Forum and used to sneak in to Laker games as a kid...grew up rooting for Jerry West but his favorite player as a youth was Bob McAdoo, to the extent that he put McAdoo's number on his sneakers...MVP of the Southern California Summer Pro League in 1985 after averaging 33.9

points, and led the league in scoring the following summer (31.6)...team comedian who specializes in impersonations of Stevie Wonder, Mr. T and Eddie Murphy...plays the drums and likes to bowl...one of six Lakers to participate in free clincis put on around Los Angeles this summer by the Community Youth Sports and Arts Foundation...Byron and his wife, Anita, live in Los Angeles with their son, Thomas, and daughter, Londen Brenae, born in December, 1986.

Born: March 28, 1961 (Welland, Ontario)
High School: Eastdale (Port Robinson, Ontario)
College: Canisius '85
Residence: Marina del Rey

Signed by the Lakers as a free agent on November 7, 1986.

1986-87: Mike became the first Canadian to play for an NBA Championship club...signed with the Lakers on Nov. 7 after it was learned that Petur Gudmundsson would likely be out for the remainder of the season...was released by Chicago prior to the start of the season...saw action in 35 contests, including a string of nine straight games beginning Dec. 20, averaging 1.4 points and 1.3 rebounds over that stretch...started three games Dec. 20-21-23 in Kareem's absence totalling four points and eight rebounds in those contests...DNP-CD in 44 games...hit 16-26 FGs (.615) in his last 17 games to raise his FG pct. to an even .500...had his season-high eight points and tied another with three rebounds in 14 minutes vs. Sacramento Feb. 4...played his season-high 18 minutes in Lakers' win over Houston without Kareem Dec. 21...appeared in 10 of the club's 18 post-season contests...had eight points, seven rebounds and 15 personal fouls in 33 playoff minutes...had four points and two rebounds in three games vs. Denver in first-round playoff series, averaged 1 point in two outings vs. Golden State, played three scoreless minutes vs. Seattle, then had two points and five rebounds in four brief outings in The Finals vs. Boston.

CAREER: Mike was a second-round choice of Portland, 25th overall, in the 1985 draft but was traded to Chicago for Ken Johnson and the rights to Ben Coleman...appeared in 38 games as a rookie with the Bulls in 1985-86, five as a starter, averaging 2.8 points and 2.9 rebounds...saw limited action in all three of the Bulls' playoff games against the Celtics that year...had his best pro outing against Boston while with the Bulls on March 4, 1986, getting career highs of 15 points and 11 rebounds...scored in double figures twice and led the club in blocked shots on seven occasions.

COLLEGE: Set career records at Canisius for field goal percentage (.578) and blocked shots (172)...averaged 15.8 points and 6.9 rebounds as a senior while leading the team in field goal percentage (.601) and blocks (52, 1.9 per game)...had career highs of 28 points and 14 rebounds against St. Francis early in his senior campaign...the Golden Griffins were 20-10 that year, and the lone other 20-victory season in the school's history came in 1956-57 when they won a school-record 22 games...ranked 18th in the NCAA in field goal percentage as a senior at .601, though he led the North Atlantic Conference in that category...started just 12 games in each of his freshman and sophomore seasons...ranked 11th in the NCAA in field goal percentage as a junior shooting .632 while averaging 12.1 points, 5.8 rebounds and amassing a team-leading total of 54 blocks...received his degree in political science.

PERSONAL: Mike's first employment came working on his father's farm...enjoys outdoor sports like kayaking, scuba diving, fishing and camping...played in the Southern California Summer Pro League in August...he is single and lives in Marina del Rey.

Billy Thompson 55

Ht: 6-6 Wt: 219
Position: Forward
Born: December 1, 1963 (Camden, New Jersey)
High School: Camden
College: Louisville '86
Residence: Culver City

Selected by the Lakers in the first round (19th overall) of the 1986 college draft with a pick acquired on draft day from the Atlanta Hawks with a second-round pick (Ron Kellogg) for Mike McGee and a first-round pick (Ken Barlow).

1986-87: Billy joined Bill Russell, Henry Bibby and Earvin Johnson as the fourth player to play for an NCAA Champion and an NBA Champion back-to-back...however, he did not get to play in back-to-back Championship games since he did not compete again after suffering a hyper-extended left knee in the club's third and final first-round game against Denver...the injury, which caused him to sit out the final 15 playoff games and required arthroscopic surgery during the off-season, was the worst suffered by a Laker all year in terms of games missed...had his best games early in the season, scoring his season/career-high 13 points in his NBA debut vs. Denver Nov. 7...had his lone double-double Nov. 30 against the Clippers, getting 11 points and his season-high 13 rebounds...scored in double figures 11 times, all at home, including three straight games in early January...DNP-CD in 23 games, including six straight in mid-December...played well against Denver averaging 9.3 points and 5.2 rebounds with .640 FGs in four outings...has not lost a post-season game since 1985...averaged 4.7 points in the playoff series against Denver before suffering the injury while attempting a fast-break dunk in the fourth quarter of the clinching victory...had his highest-scoring post-season game, eight points, in Game 1 vs. Denver.

COLLEGE: Billy's rights were acquired in a draft-day trade with Atlanta on June 17, 1986...joins Earvin Johnson and James Worthy as present-day Lakers who came to the club off of NCAA Championship teams...named to All-West Regional and All-Final Four teams as Louisville captured the 1986 NCAA title in Dallas over Duke, 72-69...scored 13 points and had four rebounds in the title game...had his best year, statistically, as a junior, leading the Cardinals in scoring (15.1), rebounding (8.4) and assists (4.2), recording his career highs in all three categories...averaged 14.9 points and 7.8 rebounds as a senior, shooting a career-high .576 field goals...named to All-Metro Conference first team as a junior and senior...only player to leave Louisville ranked among the school's all-time leaders in scoring (1,685-sixth), rebounding (930-fifth) and assists (459-second).

PERSONAL: Billy was a two-time All-America at Camden High School, and was generally regarded as the most heavily-recruited player in the nation when he was a senior...averaged 29.4 points and 15 rebounds as a senior, leading Camden (27-4) to the New Jersey state title...had 33 points and 17 rebounds in the title game...averaged 18 points and 14 rebounds as a junior as Camden went 27-1...member of the National Honor Society in high school and made the Dean's List in college...selected to play in the 1982 National Sports Festival but passed due to an injury...competed in the World University Games in Kobe, Japan, following his junior year at Louisville and had 25 points (11-15 FGs) to lead the U.S. in their 96-93 loss to the Soviet Union in the Championship game...majored in finance at Louisville...wears size 17 shoe...cousin of entertainer Lola Falana...spent most of the summer in Los Angeles undergoing therapy after his off-season knee surgery...lives in Culver City.

Mychal Thompson 43

Ht: 6-10 Wt: 235
Position: Center/Forward
Born: January 30, 1955 (Nassau, Bahamas)
High School: Jackson (Miami)
College: Minnesota '78
Residence: Inglewood

Acquired by the Lakers on February 13, 1987 from San Antonio in exchange for Frank Brickowski, Petur Gudmundsson, a first-round pick in the 1987 draft, a second-round pick in the 1990 draft and cash.

1986-87: Although the Lakers didn't win the NBA title until June 14, many NBA observers feel the club actually clinched the title on Febrary 13, when Mychal was acquired from the San Antonio Spurs...finished the regular-season on a strong note, having his best game as a Laker in the season finale April 19 vs. Seattle...starting in place of Kareem, who was bothered by tendinitis, he registered his Laker highs of 24 points and 12 rebounds, his first double-double with the club...in the previous game April 17 at San Antonio he scored 20 points to lead the club in scoring for the first time...Lakers were 28-5 in the regular season after acquiring him, 43-8 including playoffs...first game with the club came on national television against Boston Feb. 15 when, without benefit of any practice time with the club, he scored 10 points in 29 minutes, playing the final 20 minutes of the contest...had 20 or more three times as a Laker, all in April...his addition makes the Lakers the first club to have four No. 1 draft picks in NBA history, joining Kareem, Earvin Johnson and James Worthy...played 82 games between the Lakers and Spurs for the second year in a row, having done so at Portland in 1985-86, the first two seasons he hasn't missed a game...between Spurs and Lakers his 1986-87 statistics reflect career lows in scoring, rebounding and FG shooting...averaged 12.3 points and 5.6 rebounds in 49 regular-season outings with the Spurs, 10.1 points and 4.1 boards in his 33 endeavors for the Lakers...scored his 10,000th NBA point March 24 at Phoenix...had his regular-season scoring (29 vs Utah Dec. 30) and rebounding (14 at Golden State Jan. 13) highs with San Antonio...averaged 11.2 points in the Championship Series against the Celtics after averaging 7.6 points over the club's first three post-season series...biggest post-season outing came in Game 3 of the second round vs. Golden State, when he scored 23 points (15 in the fourth quarter) and grabbed 12 rebounds after Kareem got into foul trouble...scored in single digits in each of the next eight games, averaging 4.8 points in them...averaged 8 points and 6.7 rebounds in the Denver series, 10.2 points and 5.6 boards vs. Golden State, 4 points and 2.2 rebounds vs. Seattle and 11.2 points and 5.2 rebounds in the Finals vs. Boston.

CAREER: The Portland Trail Blazers made Mychal the first player selected in the 1978 college draft...played for Portland for seven years and sat out another season (1979-80) after suffering a broken left leg in the Bahamas in July, 1979...led the club in scoring once and in rebounding for four seasons, and remains the Blazers' all-time leader in minutes and rebounds...named to NBA All-Rookie team in 1978-79 after averaging 14.7 points and 8.3 rebounds...had 37 points in his second pro game October 17, 1981 vs. Kansas City, a figure he has topped only once since in regular-season play, and had his career-high 22 rebounds in his ninth pro game November 3, 1978 vs. San Diego...sat out the entire following year, though, aside from that season, he's missed just 23 games in his eight full campaigns...had his best season, statistically, in 1981-82, as he finished 17th in the league in scoring (20.8) and fourth in rebounding (11.7), both figures being his career highs...had his regular-season scoring high on December 11, 1981, at The Forum against the Lakers...he scored his pro career-high 40 points in the playoffs against Kansas City on April 3, 1981, a Blazer post-season record...Portland traded Mychal and the draft rights to Larry Krystkowiak to San Antonio in exchange for Steve Johnson on June 19, 1986.

COLLEGE: Mychal was a two-time All-America at Minnesota, where he finished as the school's all-time leader in scoring (1,992), rebounding (956) and field goal percentage (.561)...set school records as a sophomore with a 25.9 scoring average and a .606 field goal percentage...averaged 20.8 points over his four college campaigns: 12.5 as a freshman, 25.9 as a sophomore, 22.0 as a junior and 22.1 as a senior...hit at least 53 percent of his field goals each year.

PERSONAL: Mychal is a native of the Bahamas and returns home there every summer...has done some work for the Bahamas Department of Tourism, and claims he'd like to be the nation's president some day...keeps his teammates amused with his tales of life in the Bahamas...named to the NBA All-Interview second team, though it would be tough to find five guys who are better interviews in the league...studied business administration at Minnesota...TV addict and loves his soap operas...big fan of pro wrestling...would like to go into broadcasting some day...Mychal is single and lives in Inglewood during the season, spending time in Portland and the Bahamas during the off-season.

James Worthy 42

Ht: 6-9 Wt: 225
Position: Forward
Born: February 27, 1961 (Gastonia, North Carolina)
High School: Ashbrook (Gastonia)
College: North Carolina '83
Residence: Los Angeles

Selected by the Lakers in the first round (first overall) of the 1982 college draft.

1986-87: Once again, James had a great season...and, once again, he got better in the playoffs...averaged 19.4 points during the regular season, down slightly from his career-high 20.0 average in 1985-86...scoring average improved to a team-leading 23.6 in the playoffs...made his second straight start in the All-Star Game, getting 22 points (10-14 FGs) in 29 minutes...though his scoring and FG pct. were down slightly from a year ago he picked up at the end of the season, averaging 20.6 points with 194-344 FGs (.564) over the final 23 games...scored 20 or more in 16 of those contests...started all 82 games and played in all 82 for the second time in four years...scored his season-high 31 points on two occasions, March 7 vs. Cleveland and Jan. 15 against Golden State...led Lakers in scoring 16 times, rebounds on nine occasions...has been Lakers' second-leading scorer the last two seasons, though the leader has changed...scoring average failed to increase for first time since he joined the league...scored in double figures a team-leading 79 times, including the first 27 games...scored 20 or more on 45 occasions, 30 or more four times...hit the game-winning basket on a short drive with three seconds remaining as the Lakers defeated the Sixers in OT in Philadelphia February 22...had 39 points, his highest-scoring game since he was in high school, in Game 3 of the Western Conference finals at Seattle, hitting 16-25 field goals...narrowly missed his first pro triple-double in Game 1 of the Finals, getting 33 points, his 1987-playoff-high nine rebounds and his pro (regular-season and playoff)-high 10 assists...led the Lakers in scoring for six consecutive games during the playoffs, including the entire Western Conference final vs. Seattle...led the Lakers in scoring in each of their first three playoff series, getting 23 points with 26-36 FGs (.722) vs. Denver, 22 points with 44-71 FGs (.620) vs. Golden State and 30.5 points with 49-82 FGs (.598) vs. Seattle before getting 20.7 points on 57-109 FGs (.523) in the Finals vs. Boston...canned 176-298 FGs (.591) during the playoffs to maintain the highest FG pct. in NBA playoff history at .594.

CAREER: James became the first No. 1 draft pick to be selected by the reigning NBA Champions when the Lakers selected him in the first round of the 1982 college draft, using a pick obtained from the Cleveland Cavaliers...the Lakers acquired the pick and Butch Lee for Don Ford and a 1980 first-round choice (Chad Kinch) on February 15, 1980...he became the first North Carolina player ever drafted No. 1 and joins Earvin Johnson as the only No. 1 draft picks the Lakers have had since moving to Los Angeles...was a unanimous choice for the All-Rookie team after averaging 13.4 points to become the fourth rookie in Laker history to score 1,000 points...his .579 FG pct. topped all NBA rookies that year and remains a Laker rookie record...suffered a fractured tibia just below his left knee on April 10 and was sidelined for the playoffs...returned from the fractured leg to appear in all 82 games in 1983-84 and scoring average improved to 14.5 points...averaged 22.1 points in the Finals vs. Boston and set a Championship Series record by hitting 67-105 FGs (.638)...averaged 17.6 points and ranked sixth in the NBA in FG pct. (.572) in 1984-85...began wearing a pair of goggles similar to Kareem after suffering a laceration to the conjuctiva of his right eye at Utah March 13, 1985...scored in double figures in each of the club's 19 playoff games that year and averaged 21.5 points with .622 FGs as the club won the title...set another NBA playoff record by hitting 49-68 FGs (.721) in the five-game Western Conference final vs. Denver...averaged his career-high 20 points per game in 1985-86, scoring an even 1,500 points in 75 contests...ranked fourth in the NBA with a .579 FG pct., matching his career high...had 20 points in his All-Star Game debut as a West starter...owns the highest FG pct. in NBA playoff history (.594) and his regular-season ratio of .564 rates sixth...though he's only participated in the playoffs for four seaons his 1,478 post-season points rank him 39th on the NBA's all-time playoff scoring list...passed Gail Goodrich, Wilt Chamberlain and Jamaal Wilkes to move into sixth place on the Lakers' all-time playoff scoring list...has scored in double figures in 71 of his 72 career playoff outings...ranks fourth on the Lakers' all-time list for FG pct. and blocked shots, fifth in offensive rebounds and sixth in defensive rebounds and steals...unfortunately, his shooting prowess hasn't extended to three-point range, and he's missed his last 41 long-range, regular-season attempts, since he tossed one in at the end of a quarter in his rookie season at Madison Square Garden...signed a multi-year contract extension with the Lakers during the off-season.

COLLEGE: James passed up his senior year at North Carolina after leading the Tar Heels to a 63-62 win over Georgetown for the NCAA Championship in April, 1982...MVP of the Final Four after scoring a game-high 28 points (13-17 FGs) in the title game...averaged 15.6 points as a junior and his career averages were 14.5 points and 7.2 rebounds with a .541 FG pct...shot .587, .500, and .573 in his three collegiate seasons...named to virtually every All-America team after his junior campaign...second-leading vote-getter (behind Ralph Sampson) on the NBA coaches' All-America team that year and shared College Player of the Year honors bestowed by the First Interstate Bank Athletic Foundation with his ACC rival from Virginia...the Tar Heels were 71-13 (.845) during his three years there...missed the final 14 games of his freshman campaign due to a broken ankle...All-ACC as a sophomore and a junior...also named to the All-ACC Tournament team both years and Tournament MVP as a junior.

PERSONAL: James was a unanimous prep All-America at Ashbrook High, where he averaged 21.5 points and 12.5 rebounds as a senior...he and the Warriors' Sleepy Floyd both grew up and competed in Gastonia...lived up to a commitment he made when he left North Carolina early by returning to school to earn his degree...was on the road most of the summer, visiting Hawaii, Europe and home in North Carolina...while in college he would work during the summers with the aged and mentally retarded...one of six Lakers to conduct clinics throughout the Los Angeles area this past summer under the auspices of the Community Youth Sports and Arts Foundation...has attended Pete Newell's "Big Man" Camp...James' wife, Angela, a former North Carolina cheer-leader, is an aspiring model and actress...Angela was one of the songwriters on the Lakers' "Just Say No" anti-drug rap song, which was recorded and put into video form after the club won the title...the Worthys live in Los Angeles with their two dogs, Bossy and Hammer.

1986-87 Review

LOS ANGELES LAKERS 1986-87 DIARY

MAY 21
The Lakers' bid to repeat as NBA Champions comes to a sudden end as Ralph Sampson's twisting jump shot at the final buzzer eliminates the Lakers in the fifth game of the Western Conference finals as Houston scores a 114-112 decision.

JUNE 17
The Lakers trade veteran guard MIKE MCGEE and the club's first-round choice in the college draft to the Atlanta Hawks for first and second-round draft picks. The Lakers then select BILLY THOMPSON of the NCAA Champion Louisville Cardinals on the first round and Kansas guard RON KELLOGG with the second-round pick.

JULY 10
The Lakers sign center PETUR GUDMUNDSSON to a multi-year contract.

AUGUST 7
The Lakers sign rookie forward BILLY THOMPSON to a multi-year contract.

SEPTEMBER 4
Forward LARRY SPRIGGS, a member of the Lakers' NBA Championship club in 1984-85, signs a one-year contract with European power Real Madrid.

SEPTEMBER 23
The Lakers sign four draft choices (RON KELLOGG, ANDRE TURNER, DALE BLANEY and ROGER HARDEN) and two free agents (ADRIAN BRANCH and VADA MARTIN).

SEPTEMBER 24
Laker broadcaster CHICK HEARN gets a star on Hollywood's storied Walk of Fame.

SEPTEMBER 26
The Lakers waive veteran forward MAURICE LUCAS.

SEPTEMBER 30
Veteran forward MITCH KUPCHAK announces his retirement to assume a position as the Lakers' Assistant General Manager.

OCTOBER 2
The Lakers sign veteran guard RONNIE LESTER to a new contract, then trade him to Seattle for future considerations.

OCTOBER 3
PAT RILEY welcomes 14 players — seven returnees and seven newcomers — as the club opens training camp at the College of the Desert in Palm Desert. A 15th player, veteran swingman MICHAEL COOPER, sits out the opening workouts while awaiting his contract to be delivered.

OCTOBER 4
MICHAEL COOPER signs a multi-year contract, giving the club 15 players at training camp.

OCTOBER 9
The Lakers sign free-agent forward FRANK BRICKOWSKI. In exchange for waiving right of first refusal the Lakers agree to grant Seattle future considerations. Rookie guard DALE BLANEY voluntarily leaves the club.

OCTOBER 10
The Lakers open their six-game pre-season schedule with a 123-104 decision over the Chicago Bulls at The Forum.

OCTOBER 13
The Lakers sign free-agent guard WES MATTHEWS and place DALE BLANEY on the Suspended List.

OCTOBER 14
The Lakers place rookie guard ROGER HARDEN and free-agent forward VADA MARTIN on waivers.

OCTOBER 24
The Lakers lose a game and a player to wind up the pre-season with a 4-2 record. The club drops a 126-125 decision to the Phoenix Suns in Albuquerque, the Lakers' second loss in a row after four straight wins. A.C. GREEN, a starter in all six games, suffers a torn ligament in his left thumb, which will hamper him through the first six weeks of the regular season.

OCTOBER 27
Rookie guard RON KELLOGG is placed on waivers, reducing the roster to 13 players.

OCTOBER 28
The Lakers release rookie guard ANDRE TURNER to reduce the roster to 12, the limit. Rookie guard DALE BLANEY, who voluntarily left the club on Oct. 13, returns to practice but remains on the Suspended List.

NOVEMBER 1
The Lakers begin the 1986-87 season the same way the previous one ended — with a loss to the Houston Rockets. The Rockets score a 112-102 victory over the Lakers on national TV in Houston, as A.C. GREEN sits out due to his thumb injury. Laker reserves total six points in the loss.

NOVEMBER 4
The Lakers record their first victory of the season with a 110-96 victory in Seattle behind 26 points by JAMES WORTHY, 23 by BYRON SCOTT and 17 rebounds by KURT RAMBIS, evening the club's record at 1-1.

NOVEMBER 7

60 X 3: By winning 65 games last year the Lakers have won 60 or more games for three seasons in a row for the first time in club history...the Lakers were 62-20 each of the previous two seasons...only two other franchises in NBA history have recorded 60 wins in three successive years: the Celtics, twice (1979-80/1981-82, 1983-84/1985-86) and Milwaukee (1970-71/1972-73). No team has won 60 or games for a fourth consecutive season.

AT HOME ON THE ROAD: The Lakers posted the NBA's best road record last year (28-13)...only one Laker club, the record-setting 1971-72 squad, won more road contests (31)...the 1972-73 Lakers also won 28 road games, although that club also won two additional neutral court games...Lakers had a season-long, six-game road winning streak snapped in their final regular-season road game at San Antonio April 17, and that streak ties for the third-longest in club history.

DIALING LONG DISTANCE: Since the 1982-83 season, when the Lakers missed 42 consecutive 3FG tries and made an NBA-record-low 10-96 (.104) 3FGs for the season, the Lakers have steadily improved to become one of the most prolific long-range shooting clubs in the league...the Lakers led the NBA in 3FG pct. for most of the season last year and wound up shooting a club-record .367...hit at least one 3FG in each of their first 27 games and were shooting .489 through the first 17 games of the season, higher than most other clubs' FG percentages...for the second season in a row the team set club records for 3FG made, attempted and percentage, and Michael Cooper shattered his club records for makes and attempts, while Byron Scott broke his club record for 3FG pct. ...Cooper and Scott ranked among the NBA 3FG pct. leaders all season...here's a breakdown of how the 3FG has evolved into an integral part of the Laker offense:

OPENING NIGHT JITTERS: One thing the Lakers won't want to repeat this season is its recent lack of success on the night the club receives its Championship rings...on October 29, 1982, the night the club was presented with its rings from the 1982 Championship season, the Golden State Warriors humbled the Lakers, 132-117...on November 5, 1985, the Lakers returned to The Forum with a 4-0 record only to be defeated by the Cleveland Cavaliers, 129-111, after another Championship ceremony...in fact, every time a former Laker was presented with a ring that season, his team lost...first, the club lost the home opener to the Cavs when the remaining team members were honored...the jinx continued on November 17 when former Laker assistant coach Dave Wohl was feted before his New Jersey Nets visited The Forum, prior to a 138-119 Laker victory...on November 20, 1985, Jamaal Wilkes was presented with his ring prior to his first Forum visit as a member of the L.A. Clippers, then his team lost, 122-107...the Philadelphia 76ers signed former Laker Bob McAdoo in time for the Sixers' January 31 Forum visit...McAdoo received his ring before the game and, you guessed it, the Lakers prevailed, 134-100.

PRIME TICKET

Prime Ticket will telecast 26 home games of the defending NBA Champion Lakers in 1987-88, as well as all available playoff games from The Forum. Chick Hearn anbd Stu Lantz will handle the announcing as part of their radio/tv simulcasts.

Beginning its third year of operation, the Prime Ticket Network is the first and only regional sports network in the West with exclusive programming for basic cable television. Co-owned by Dr. Jerry Buss and Bill Daniels, Prime Ticket can be seen by upwards of 1.8 million subscribers in California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii.

In addition to Laker telecasts, Prime Ticket's other basketball offerings include live coverage of the Southern California Summer Pro League and 25 college games featuring schools like UCLA, USC, UNLV, Pepperdine, Loyola Marymount, Cal State Fullerton, UC Santa Barbara and Fresno State. On the high school level, Prime Ticket telecasts the Los Angeles City, CIF Southern Section and Southern California regional finals, as well as the State Championships from Oakland.

Prime Ticket's sports and entertainment menu extends beyond basketball to include 39 Los Angeles Kings home and road hockey games, 24 Los Angeles Lazers' and 12 San Diego Sockers' MISL games, the Michelin Tennis Challenge, Stroh's Fight Night At The Forum, international and professional indoor volleyball, two-man beach volleyball and Los Angeles Strings tennis, as well as football, track, baseball, soccer, swimming, volleyball and tennis from Division One universities throughout the West Coast.

POSTPONE THAT VACATION—AGAIN: Last season was the 11th year in a row in which the Lakers participated in the playoffs, the second-longest current streak in the NBA...only Philadelphia, which has competed in post-season play for 12 consecutive seasons, has a longer streak...the Lakers have failed to qualify for the playoffs in only three years of their existence: 1958, 1975 and 1976.

THE FORUM...Home of the Lakers

Ground Breaking:	July 1, 1966	Basketball Capacity:	17,505
First Event:	December 30, 1967	Hockey:	16,005
	Flyers 2, Kings 0	Conventions:	19,385
First Lakers Game:	December 31, 1967	Boxing:	18,780
	Lakers 147, Rockets 118	Concerts:	19,000

This season marks The Forum's 20th anniversary as one of the premier arenas in the world for both sporting and entertainment events. Actually, The Forum's 20th birthday will formally come on December 30, when the Los Angeles Kings host the Winnipeg Jets, appropriate, since it was the Kings that opened the building on December 30, 1967 against the Philadelphia Flyers. The Lakers played their first game here the following night, defeating the San Diego Rockets, 147-118.

Since then, the Lakers have won three NBA Championships on The Forum floor, doing so on May 7, 1972, June 8, 1982 and again this past June 14.

Of course, NBA Championships aren't the only historic sporting events to have graced "The House That Jack Built", since former owner Jack Kent Cooke opened its doors 20 years ago.

On September 10, 1973, the largest live boxing gate ever on the West Coast, $475,640, was recorded when Muhammad Ali defeated Ken Norton via a split decision. The first Forum concert paired Tony Bennett and Duke Ellington in 1968, and countless major acts have followed. The Forum added another distinction in 1984 by serving as the venue for the men's and women's basketball competion during the Olympics.

In 1979, Dr. Jerry Buss purchased The Forum from Cooke in the largest sports transaction in history.

More than 30 million people have entered The Forum to see events like world championship boxing matches, the Harlem Globetrotters, concerts of all shapes and dimensions, track meets, ice shows, the circus, rodeos, the Los Angeles Strings of Team Tennis and other major tennis and volleyball events, the Los Angeles Lazers of the Major Indoor Soccer League and countless other events.

More than 70 percent of the seating at The Forum is located between the baskets or goals, and no seat is more than 170 feet from the playing surface. The finest in dining is provided in the private Forum Club, the public Whistle Stop and at numerous concession stands.

LAKERS YEAR-BY-YEAR

1961 — Lakers first season in Los Angeles after 12 years in Minneapolis. . .Finish in second place in the Western Division behind St. Louis. . .Forward Elgin Baylor winds up as the second leading scorer in the NBA with 2,538 points and a 34.8 ppg. average. . .Playoffs: Defeat Detroit (3-2), but lose to St. Louis (3-4).

1962 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS. . .Lakers win the West as Jerry West pours in 2,310 points (30.8) and a part-time Elgin Baylor averages 38.3. . .Playoffs: Baylor averages 38.6 points and West 31.5 as the Lakers defeat Detroit (4-2), but lose to Boston (3-4) in the championship series in an overtime seventh game. . .Schaus coached.

1963 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS. . .Elgin Baylor again finishes as the second leading scorer in the league with 2,719 points (34.0) as the Lakers roll to their second division title. . .Playoffs: Lakers defeat St. Louis (4-3), but lose to Boston in the finals (2-4) . . .Schaus coached.

1964 — West (2,064 pts, 28.7 average) and Baylor (1,983 pts, 25.4 average) finish as the fifth and sixth leading scorers in the league, but Lakers finish in third place behind San Francisco and St. Louis. . .Playoffs: Lose to St. Louis (2-3) in first round. . .Schaus coached.

1965 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS. .West paces the Lakers with 31.0 ppg.—second best in the league. . .Playoffs: Lakers beat Baltimore (4-2) in the division finals despite the absence of the injured Elgin Baylor. . .Lose to Boston (1-4) in the championship. Jerry West has a record-breaking playoff, scoring an incredible 447 points for a 40.6 average in the 11 games played. . .Schaus coached.

1966 — Lakers lead the NBA in scoring, averaging 119.5 ppg. . .West again finishes as the league's second-best scorer, averaging 31.3 ppg. . .Playoffs: Lakers defeat St. Louis (4-3) in the division finals, but lose the championship to Boston (3-4) in a seventh game that Boston wins by two points, 95-93. .Schaus coached.

1967 — Plagued by injuries that keep West out of the lineup for 15 games and Baylor out for 11, the Lakers slide to third place in the Western Division. Playoffs: West manages to play in only one playoff game and the Lakers bow to San Francisco (0-3) in the opening round. . .Schaus coached.

1968 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS. . Under new coach Butch Van Breda Kolff, Lakers roll to division title despite absence of West for 31 games during regular season. . .Baylor leads the team in scoring (26.0), rebounding (941) and assists(355). . .Playoffs: Lakers sweep by Chicago (4-1) and San Francisco (4-0), but lose to Boston (2-4) in championship.

1969 — WESTERN DIVISON CHAMPIONS. . .Lakers start slowly, but compile nine-game win streak in November that puts them in first place for the rest of the season. . .New Laker Wilt Chamberlain leads league in rebounds (21.1) and field goal percentage (.583). . .Playoffs: Lakers lose first two playoff games but come back to beat San Francisco (4-2), then overwhelm Atlanta (4-1). . .Lose to Boston (3-4) in seven games, the last game a 108-106 heartbreaker in Los Angeles. . .Van Breda Kolff coached.

Lakers Year-By-Year. . .

1970 — WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS. . .Injury jinx again hits Lakers as Wilt Chamberlain tears knee ligaments and is lost to team for regular season. Lakers finish in second place in division. . .Playoffs: Wilt Chamberlain back, Lakers defeat Phoenix (4-3) and Atlanta (4-0), but run out of miracles in the final series against New York, bowing to the Knicks and a hobbling Willis Reed in seven games (3-4). . .Joe Mullaney coached.

1971 — PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS. . .Lakers finish a strong seven games ahead of San Francisco for the division crown, despite Baylor missing all but two games in the regular season. Scoring slack was taken up by Chamberlain (20.7), Happy Hairston (18.6) and Gail Goodrich (17.5). . .Playoffs: Both Baylor and West are not in uniform, but Lakers still manage to upset Chicago in seven games (4-3) in the opening round. . .Team fails to eventual World Champion Milwaukee Bucks in five games (1-4). . .Mullaney coached.

1972 — WORLD CHAMPIONS. . .Lakers set record as winningest team in the history of the NBA with 69 wins, and also compile a 33-game win streak—the longest streak in all professional sports, as they finish in first place in the Pacific Division by an amazing 18 games. . .Goodrich averages 25.9 points and West hands out a league-leading 747 assists. . .Playoffs: Lakers roll over Chicago (4-0) and eliminate Milwaukee (4-2) to win the Western Division. . .Los Angeles spots New York one game lead in the finals, but then rolls to four straight wins to gain the World Championship (4-1). In the final game Wilt Chamberlain hauls down 29 rebounds and scores 24 points as the Lakers win 114-100. . .Bill Sharman is voted Coach-of-the-Year.

1973 — WESTERN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS. . .Wilt Chamberlain becomes the first player in NBA history to shoot over 70% from the field (.727) and the Lakers have the second best record in the club's history, winning 60 and losing only 22. . .Playoffs: Lakers down Chicago (4-3) and Golden State (4-1) to again face New York for the championship. Lakers win the first game, but Knicks' pressure defense causes Los Angeles to average 19 turnovers per game and New York wins the next four and the title (1-4). . .Sharman coached.

1974 — PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS. . .Lakers stage a tremendous comeback in the last seven games of the season to erase Golden State's three game lead and win the crown. Their accomplishment was even more remarkable considering that they did it without last year's stalwarts, Wilt Chamberlain and Jim McMillan, and with West sidelined for 51 games. . .Playoffs: Lose to Milwaukee in opening round (1-4). . .Sharman coached.

1975 — Jerry West retires. . .Cazzie Russell injures his knee and is out for the balance of the season, and the Lakers miss the NBA playoffs for the first time in 14 seasons. . .High points of the year include Gail Goodrich's 53 points against Kansas City-Omaha and Happy Hairston's 14 rebounds in one quarter against Philadelphia. . .Sharman coached.

1976 — New Laker Kareem Abdul-Jabbar becomes the first Laker in either Minneapolis or Los Angeles to win the League MVP award, the fourth time in his seven-year career that he has received that honor. In one of the most convincing displays of basketball dominance, Abdul-Jabbar leads the league in rebounds, blocked shots, minutes played, is second in scoring, fifth in shooting, and second on the Lakers in steals and assists. However, Lakers are totally unable to win on the road (9-32) and are edged out of the playoffs by losing the last two games of the season at Portland and Phoenix. . .Sharman coached.

1977 — PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS. . .Former Laker great, Jerry West, returns to the team as head coach, and in his rookie season guides the Lakers to the best record in the NBA—53-29—and the Pacific Division title. . .In the process, Lakers set an NBA record with 37 home wins and a Laker team record with 21 consecutive home victories. . .Center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar wins his second straight NBA Most Valuable Player award, the fifth time in his eight year career that he has earned such honors. Playoffs: Lakers defeat Golden State in seven games (4-3) as Abdul-Jabbar averages 37 points, 18.7 rebounds, and shoots .607 from the field. In the Western Conference finals, Lakers are unable to contain Portland's quick guards and are swept, 0-4.

1978 — Five Laker players suffer broken bones in the first half of the season including center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who breaks his hand in the first two minutes of the opening game of the year when he punches Milwaukee center Kent Benson in retaliation for a thrown elbow. . .In addition, forward Kermit Washington is fined $10,000 and suspended 60 days for punching Houston forward Rudy Tomjanovich. . .In the second half of the season, with most of the players healthy, Lakers roll to a 28-13 mark, second best in the league. . .Playoffs: Laker guards are pressured into shooting a combined .363 (37-102) from the field as team loses to Seattle, 1-2, in the first round.

1979 — West completes three-year reign as coach with 47-35 record and playoff elimination by Seattle for second straight year. . .Bullets and Sonics are strongest NBA teams, having reached finals two years in a row. Lakers are using small forwards, Jamaal Wilkes and Adrian Dantley. . .In summer prior to 1980 season, Cooke sells his California Sports Inc. empire (Lakers, Kings, Forum and a ranch) to Santa Monica real estate developer Jerry Buss for $67.5 million. . .Buss hires Jack McKinney to be head coach and Paul Westhead from LaSalle as assistant.

1980 — WORLD CHAMPIONS. . .McKinney falls from bicycle Nov. 8 and Westhead takes over, guiding team to Lakers' second NBA championship in their 20 years in LA. . .Abdul-Jabbar is MVP. . .Lakers win final playoff game over 76ers in Philadelphia without injured Kareem, and rookie star Magic Johnson wins playoff MVP award. Westhead is then given a new four-year contract by Buss and McKinney signs to coach Indiana Pacers. . .Pat Riley, lured from broadcasting booth where he was Hearn's color man, is new assistant coach.

1981 — Lakers open season with five consecutive wins, their best start ever in Los Angeles. . .On November 18, Magic Johnson, in a game against Kansas City, suffers a torn cartilage in his left knee and is out for the next 45 games. . .Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, plays brilliantly in his absence, at one point scoring 22 or more points in 33 consecutive games. . .Lakers record a 28-17 mark without Magic. . .Head coach Paul Westhead wins his 100th NBA game, March 17 vs. Dallas, becoming fifth in league history to do so. . .Los Angeles finishes second in the Pacific Division to Phoenix with a 54-28 record. Playoffs: Despite the home-court advantage, Lakers stunned in opening mini-series by Houston 2-1. Rockets advance to NBA Finals, before losing to Boston in six games.

1982 — WORLD CHAMPIONS. . . Lakers got off to a slow start and Paul Westhead is fired on November 19, record is 7-4. . . Pat Riley takes over and the Lakers win 17 of next 20 games and stand 24-7 and open up a five game lead over Seattle in the Pacific Division. . . Mitch Kupchak injures his knee on December 19 and is lost for year. . . Lakers sign free agent Bob McAdoo on December 24 and compensate New Jersey with a draft pick. . . Kurt Rambis emerges as Kupchak's replacement on a January road trip to the midwest. . . Lakers sweep Phoenix and San Antonio 4-0 to reach NBA Finals, becoming first NBA club ever to record back-to-back series sweeps and win first game of NBA Finals vs. Philadelphia to set NBA record for most consecutive playoff wins. . . Lakers win second NBA World Championship in three years with a 114-104 win over 76ers in sixth game. . . Magic Johnson again wins MVP with a steady, 'blue-collar' performance which included 13 points, 13 rebounds and 13 assists in title game. . .

1983 — WESTERN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS. . . Lakers being the season as the first reigning champion to add the No. 1 pick in the college draft with the selection of James Worthy. . . Golden State spoils the team's Championship ring ceremony on Opening Night with a 132-117 victory, but the Lakers win their next seven games. . . Kareem Abdul-Jabbar passes two milestones, getting his 14,000th rebound and scoring his 29,000th point. . . Magic Johnson leads the league in assists and is named to the All-NBA First Team for the first time. . . Bob McAdoo misses the final 32 regular season games due to an injured toe, and James Worthy is lost for the playoffs when he suffers a broken leg in the final week of the regular-season. . . Pat Riley becomes the third-fastest coach in NBA history to win 100 games. . . Lakers defeat the Portland Trail Blazers in five games and the San Antonio Spurs in six before losing to the Philadelphia 76ers in four games in the Championship Series.

1984 — WESTERN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS. . . Prior to the pre-season opener, Norm Nixon and Eddie Jordan are traded to the San Diego Clippers for Byron Scott and Swen Nater. . . Mitch Kupchak, who sat out 23 months from knee injuries suffered in December, 1981, returns to the club in November. . . Earvin Johnson, off to a record-pace in assists, suffers a dislocated right index finger on Dec. 2 and is lost for a month. . . Magic Johnson sets an All-Star Game record with 22 assists and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar leads the West with 25 points and 13 rebounds. . . Abdul-Jabbar breaks Wilt Chamberlain's all-time NBA FG record in Boston Feb. 8, the team's final victory in a season-long eight-game winning streak. . . Johnson's 23 assists vs. Seattle Feb. 21 tie the club record. . . Jamaal Wilkes comes down with an intestinal infection in February and never regains his usual form. . . Abdul-Jabbar breaks Wilt Chamberlain's all-time NBA scoring record vs. Utah at Las Vegas April 5. . . the Lakers win their third straight Pacific Division title, eliminate Kansas City in three games, Dallas in five and Phoenix in six, before losing to Boston in seven games in the Championship Series. . . Johnson sets an all-time playoff record with 24 assists in Game 2 vs. Phoenix, and his 21 assists in Game 3 vs. Boston are an all-time Championship Series record. . . post-season honors: Abdul-Jabbar and Johnson are first team All-NBA, Michael Cooper is first team All-Defensive with Abdul-Jabbar second team, and Johnson wins the inaugural Schick Pivotal Player Award.

1985 — WORLD CHAMPIONS. . . Kareem Abdul-Jabbar announces on December 5 that he will return for an unprecedented 17th season. . . Earvin Johnson receives a record 957,447 votes in the All-Star balloting. . . Jamaal Wilkes suffers torn ligaments in his left knee on February 1 and is lost for the remainder of the season. . . Pat Riley is named Coach of the Month as the Lakers have their winningest March ever (13-1). . . Close the regular season winning 31 of their last 35 games, 17 in a row at home. . . Byron Scott leads the league in three-point FG percentage (.433). . . Lakers win their fourth straight Pacific Division title by a league-record 20 games, and set two other records by shooting .545 FG and recording 2,575 assists. . . Eliminate the Suns in three games and the Blazers and Nuggets in five, before finally defeating the Celtics in a six-game Championship Series, in Boston, after eight previous failures. . . Kareem Abdul-Jabbar wins his second Playoff MVP trophy. . . Earvin Johnson is named to the All-NBA first team and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar is a second-team selection, while Michael Cooper receives first team All-Defensive honors.

1986 — PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS. . . The Lakers open with four straight wins on the road and get off to the best start in club history, goiung 11-1, 19-2 and 24-3. . . Kareem Abdul-Jabbar signs a one-year contract extension early in the season to play an unprecedented 18th NBA season in 1986-87. . . Abdul-Jabbar is named Sportsman of the Year by Sports Illustrated. . . Four days after scoring 40 points against New York and Patrick Ewing, Abdul-Jabbar scores 46 points, his highest-scoring game since 1975, in Houston. . . Earvin Johnson becomes the first player to earn more than one million votes in the All-Star balloting and he's joined in the West starting lineup by Abdul-Jabbar and James Worthy. . . Abdul-Jabbar becomes the all-time NBA leader in minutes and games played and reaches the 35,000 point mark on March 30. . . Johnson leads the NBA in assists for the third time in his six-year career. . . Lakers finish 62-20 for the second year in a row, the second-best record in club history. . . Lakers win their fifth straight Pacific Division title by an NBA-record 22-game margin. . . Houston eliminated the Lakers in five games in the Western Conference finals keeping the Lakers from a chance for back-to-back titles as well as a fifth straight appearance in the Championship Series.

1987 — WORLD CHAMPIONS. . . Pat Riley is named NBA Coach of the Month for November after guiding the Lakers to a 12-2 record. . . snap the Celtics' 48-game winning streak at Boston Garden with a 117-110 victory on December 12. . . Earvin Johnson averages 39.3 points and 13.3 assists over a three-game span as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar sits out with an eye inflammation, including his career-high 46 points in an overtime win at Sacramento December 23. . . Abdul-Jabbar makes an unprecedented 16th appearance in the All-Star Game, with Johnson and James Worthy voted as starters and Pat Riley the West coach. . . acquire Mychal Thompson from San Antonio on February 13 for Frank Brickowski, Petur Gudmundsson, two draft choices and cash. . . Chick Hearn broadcasts his 2,000th consecutive game February 28 at Utah. . . finish 65-17, the second-best record in club history, and win the Pacific Division title for the sixth year in a row. . . sweep Denver in three games, eliminate Golden State in five, sweep Seattle in four then defeat Boston, 4-2, to win the club's fourth NBA title of the 80's. . . Johnson is named MVP for both the regular season and the playoffs, while Cooper is named NBA Defensive Player of the Year.

Centinela Hospital Medical Center
The Official Hospital of the Los Angeles Lakers

When the Lakers sought to protect the health and enhance the fitness of its players, the obvious choice was for Lakers officials to name Centinela Hospital Medical Center as the "Official Hospital of the Lakers."

An international leader in the field of sports medicine, Centinela's reputation is so well recognized that it was designated an "Official Hospital for the 1984 Olympic Games," and both the White House and the State Department have chosen Centinela as their treatment center whenever the President or other major dignitaries are in the Los Angeles area.

Centinela staff orthopedists are the team physicians for most of the Los Angeles professional teams, as well as many teams and individual athletes in all sports throughout the United States and Canada.

The Centinela Hospital team for the Lakers is headed by two internationally recognized orthopedists, Robert K. Kerlan, M.D., and Stephen J. Lombardo, M.D., and by Michael Mellman, M.D., a specialist in Internal Medicine. These physicians attend all Laker games and check each player at half time and after each game. They also consult with the players regarding their physical problems and their personal fitness programs between games and off-season.

Prior to the start-up of each season Lakers players have their annual fitness evaluation at Centinela Hospital's sister organization, the Centinela National Athletic Health Institute, an organization that stands in the forefront of treatment and research into athletic-related health problems and fitness improvement, recently moved to newly expanded facilities in Fox Hills (Culver City).

The Institute staff has developed a sophisticated battery of tests to evaluate the health and fitness of professional athletes, recreational athletes, business executives, policemen, and firemen in addition to test for nonathletic individuals. They use test results to detect illness and health problems, but go much further by advising the individual how healthy and fit he or she has the potential to become. The new facility, with a complete workout area, allows the individual to attain or maintain their physical fitness prescription under the watchful eye and care of trained exercise physiologists.

Test results are used to form an exercise prescription—a health, fitness and activity program as personal as one's own fingerprint. Lakers coaches and exercise physiologists then use these individual prescriptions to help each team member achieve his best potential.

No program better demonstrates Centinela's leadership in sports medicine than the pioneering research done in the hospital's Biomechanics Laboratory. Here, researchers use advanced technology and engineering to study the body mechanics of both athletes and nonathletes. The staff has developed scientific methods to meet a number of different goals, including: to help athletes improve their performance; to analyze playing techniques; to reduce sports injuries; to evaluate the effectiveness of sports and exercise equipment; and to improve rehabilitation programs.

Centinela Hospital thus provides health examinations and physical fitness testing and develops fitness programs for each team member.

Finally, the hospital will continue to conduct research and develop data to use as a foundation for the continued good health of the Lakers.

The hospital's relationship with the Lakers has proven to be a winning one for the team. Increased fitness, improved performances and injury prevention have been the results.

TOYOTA 4x4

LOOKS AS TOUGH AS IT IS.

4x4 BRAGGING RIGHTS.

Driving a Toyota 4x4 tells people that you know your 4x4's. It's got "tough" written all over its bold, aggressive shape. Under the hood, there's the power of a 116-hp electronically fuel-injected engine to move you up a mountain or down the highway. When you take on the rough stuff, the Hi-Trac independent front suspension gives you high running ground clearance while rugged steel skid plates protect the front suspension, transfer case, and fuel tank. Most of all, built-in Toyota quality protects your investment. And your bragging rights.
